CLOSED SHOP
BAN INCLUDED
IN LABOR BILLSECONDARY BOYCOTT
OUTLAWED IN NEW PROPOSAL

BY MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, April 4 (AP)—A ban on the closed shop, jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts is contained in the preliminary draft of a general labor bill before the senate labor committee, legislators disclosed tonight.

The bill, prepared by the committee's staff as a starting point for discussion by members, contains no outright ban on industry-wide bargaining. Neither does it ban the union shop nor maintenance of membership.

Changes Likely
But the draft, described by senators as "very preliminary" and likely to be changed in many details, now provides for:

1. Outlawing of secondary boycotts and jurisdictional strikes as well as strikes designed to force an employer to (a) bargain with a union which is not certified under the Wagner labor relations act, (b) correct practices for which an administrative remedy is provided under the Wagner act, or (c) violate any law.

(An example of a secondary boycott is where one union refuses to handle a merchant's products made or handled by another union or by non-union workers. The most common type of jurisdictional strike stems from a dispute between unions as to which should do certain work.)

2. Creation of a federal mediation agency independent of labor department, with provision for a compulsory 30-day cooling-off period before serious strikes. Workers who violated this provision would lose their employment and bargaining rights under the Wagner act.

3. Making unions liable for unfair labor practices under the Wagner act, the same as employers now are.

Night Spot Raiding
Tacoma Vigilante
Officers Suspended

Tacoma, Wash., April 4 (AP)—Six Tacoma policemen were suspended today by Police Chief William E. Farrar for 30 days each. The men were all members of the "Vigilante" group which twice last year and once this week engaged in unofficial night raids on downtown night spots.

Chief Farrar indicated no specific reason for the suspensions, saying in his order that the "six men were suspended, pending further investigation of possible charges, have violated a number of rules of this department. They have also violated rules of common sense. They have caused the city of Tacoma untold damage in the way of bad publicity, which will be read throughout the nation."

Three other officers were dismissed from the force Wednesday for their part in the raids.

ENVOY TO INDIA—Henry F. Grady, above, trade expert and government "trouble-shooter," has been chosen to be the United States' first ambassador to India, Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson disclosed Friday.

The 65-year-old California shipping man has been rumored for some time as the man tapped for the job. This will be his first ambassadorial post.

The American ambassador will go to New Delhi at an historic hour in India's history. The sprawling, poverty-plagued nation is due to be set free by great Britain as an independent country in June, 1948. (NEA Photo.)

CHILDREN DEAD
IN FLASH FIRE

Boarding Home Swept By Blaze; Two Perish,
Seven Burned

Columbus, O., April 4 (AP)—Two children perished today and seven others were burned, four critically, in a flash fire that swept through a crowded, five-room foster home.

Max Vivian Thompson, 30, and his wife, Harold, 36, who operated the boarding home and charged a weekly fee for the children's keep, were injured. Mrs. Thompson's condition is serious.

The state welfare department, declaring the couple had violated the law by housing more than the two juvenile boarders their license permitted, launched an investigation.

State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood ordered a check of the state's 5,000 foster homes, sheltering approximately 20,000 youngsters. He said violators of regulations would be prosecuted.

The dead were:
Barbara Ann Shultzinger, 10 months, old reported to have lived at the home since birth. She was burned to death.

Princess Rodgers, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rodgers. She died of suffocation.

The critically injured children are: Betty Thompson, 10, and Estella Louise Thompson, 4, daughters of the operators, and Wanda Jane Rodgers, 4, sister of one of the dead girls.

The fire broke out about 6 a. m. as Thompson was kindling a heating stove in the living room of the two-story structure. Firemen said an explosion of gas ignited a rag in Thompson's hand. He started for a door and the flaming rag set fire to paper drapes.

As the flames swept through the house, Thompson raced upstairs, awakened his wife and then jumped out of a bathroom window.

Mrs. Thompson herded five of the youngsters into the bathroom and dropped them out the window to her husband, 15 feet below. Two other children were rescued by Patrolman Raymond McClain, who broke through a rear door after arriving with the fire department.

State Police
Framed Him,
Sigler Claims

Lansing, April 4 (AP)—Implying that he had been led into the error deliberately by unfriendly members of the Michigan State police, Governor Sigler today made a public apology for calling the Detroit Council for Youth Service a "Communist Front" organization.

The Governor had listed the agency among other "Communist Fronts" at a hearing before the House committee on un-American activities in Washington last week.

Sigler said that the State police in 1941 had investigated reports that Communists were attempting "to infiltrate" the Council for Youth Service and were unsuccessful. An investigation by the State police at the same time showed that another organization, the Detroit Youth Assembly, "was definitely left wing," Sigler said, and the reports on the two agencies were mistitled.

"I investigated the State police and some of them out there don't like me or Commissioner Donald Leonard," Sigler declared. "I said then I didn't like some things about the detective bureau and I still don't like them. There is neither rhyme, reason, nor excuse for this happening. I feel that this was planted on me to embarrass me."

Dissident Forces
Kill Five Marines
East Of Tientsin

Peiping, Saturday, April 5 (AP)—Five U. S. Marines were killed and 16 wounded today in a battle with "dissident forces" attempting to raid a Marine ammunition dump at Tangku, east of Tientsin.

A Marine announcement indicated fighting might be still in progress, saying that at 5:30 a. m., four and a quarter hours after the attack was launched, the assailants were being "pursued northward."

The attackers, identified by the announcement only as "dissident elements," struck in the darkness before dawn and it was impossible to ascertain the number. (Chinese units have been called "dissident elements" in the past.)

The Marines repulsed the raiders and then went over to the attack.

NO AGREEMENT
ON REPARATIONS

German Problem Hinges
On Issue; Ministers
Give Up Trying

BY WES GALLAGHER
Moscow, April 4 (AP)—Authoritative informants declared tonight that the foreign ministers were so deadlocked on reparations, a major issue upon which settlement of the German problem depends, that the economic committee had given up trying to find a compromise and had ceased to meet.

This disclosure came as Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in answers to a series of questions expressed doubt that President Truman's proposals for Greece would "restore democracy" to that country. Molotov called for a hands off policy on Greece.

Molotov commented that he saw "danger" that American plans for Germany's political organization would lead to her dismemberment, but added that he felt it was possible to reach a compromise on the future form of a German government, if the question of federalization could be decided by a German plebiscite.

The ministers themselves did not meet tonight because a special committee was unable to present a report on unsettled political issues. The ministers will meet again at 4 p. m. (7 a. m. Central Standard Time) tomorrow, at which time the committee hopes to unmask its problems and present a report to the council.

Governor To Fill
Vacancy On MUCC,
Replace John Reid

Lansing, April 4 (AP)—Governor Sigler said today he would fill a vacancy on the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission Tuesday.

The term of John Reid, one of the commissioners that Sigler's special study committee called a "major obstacle" to the efficient operation of the important agency, has expired.

SNOW BURIES SKIERS
Oslo, April 4 (AP)—The Oslo radio reported tonight that two persons were believed killed when a snow avalanche buried six skiers in the mountain area near Nordfjord, western Norway. They succeeded in digging themselves out and a fourth was rescued later.

UNSAFE MINES
ARE CERTIFIED
ON OKAY LISTUNIONS INSIST ON CLOSE CHECK TO PROTECT MEN

(By The Associated Press)

The task of correcting unsafe conditions in 518 bituminous coal mines was well under way today (Saturday) throughout the nation, and United Mine Workers officials insisted on careful scrutiny of results "for the protection of our men."

As reports trickled in announcing safety certification of some pits, a Navy spokesman indicated that at least 25 percent of the cited mines would "be certified okay" before Monday—end of a six-day mourning period by 400,000 soft coal miners.

"When the operating manager of the mine and the United Mine Workers' safety committee declare the pit safe, the Navy (operating the mines for the government) immediately certifies it as such," the officer said.

No UMW Responsibility
Union safety committees in UMW District 5 at Pittsburgh were ordered by District President John P. Busarello to defer signing of any certificates until his office "could check on what's been done to improve safety."

"We're doing this for the protection of our miners," Busarello asserted.

At Clearfield, Pa., James Mark, president of UMW District 2, said union committees should "keep hands off entirely" because "they have no authority under state or federal law to call a mine safe."

"If we assume responsibility and anything happens we are responsible," Mark said. "I believe that Krug (Interior secretary who ordered the closing) was trying to get responsibility off himself."

President Adolph Pacifico of UMW District 6 at Wheeling, W. Va., told mine safety committees in the eastern Ohio and northern West Virginia area "not to assume responsibility" for safety compliance.

Violations Listed
Here is a list of violations that might make a mine unsafe:

Lack of handrails on stairways, tests for methane gas not made weekly, cluttered floors, inadequate roof treads, insufficient timbering, steel doors of magazines, improper ventilation, transportation and electric wiring deficiencies, lack of certain fire fighting equipment, coal dust on the tipple, insufficient safety lamps, short blasting cables, and the failure of the superintendent to counter-sign all reports.

There are hundreds of other violations of mine codes—such as smoking and open flame lamps—which could place a pit in an unsafe condition.

Charles O'Neill, president of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers Association, asserted at Altoona that "many of the mines closed are unaware of any violation of the safety code and in many instances the so-called violations are of a very minor character."

Some Get Compensation
Nevertheless, the 518 mines in 19 states will remain closed until safety conditions are met. These diggings employ one-fourth of the nation's 400,000 soft coal diggers.

American Reporters
Visit Big Plant Of Newspaper Pravda

Moscow, April 4 (AP)—The giant Pravda newspaper plant and the Kremlin were visited today by British and American newsmen here for the council of foreign ministers.

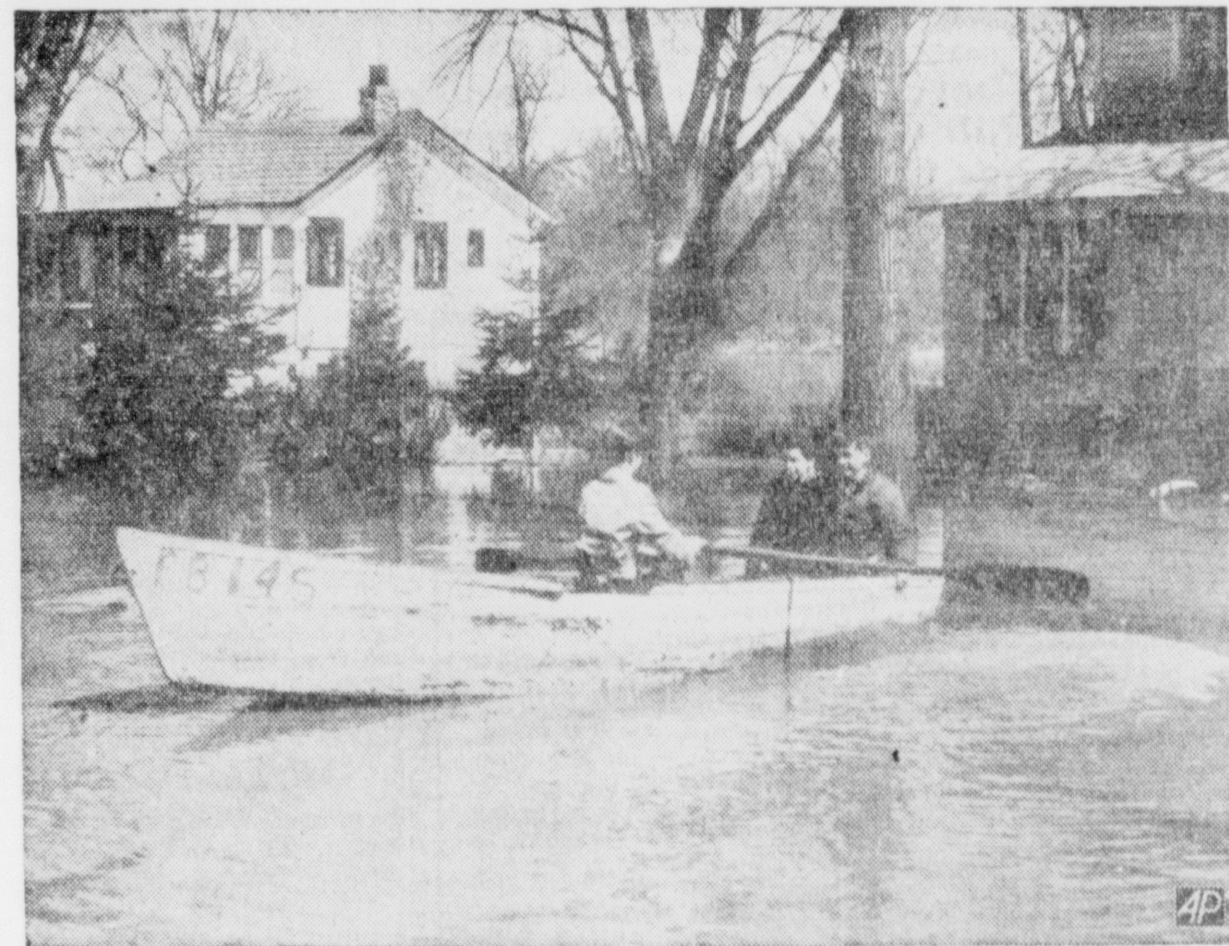

Editors on the official Communist party newspaper showed a group of British and American correspondents how the Russian Journal gets out a four-page publication for 1,800,000 Moscow readers and another 700,000 in eight other Russian cities.

They were taken through the Pravda plant, which is nine stories high and covers an entire city block. In addition to Pravda, the plant puts out two other newspapers and 20 magazines.

They found no city room, but discovered that each editor and leading reporter had his own office—in most cases with secretaries. There are 430 persons in the editorial department and 2,000 employees in the entire enterprise.

The newsmen were told that one of every four editorial workers belongs to the Communist party, most of them in top positions.

One Pravda editor, asked what happens if someone writes something the government doesn't like, replied: "Nothing. Besides, that doesn't happen very often."

Freak Wreck Kills
Two On Burlington
Zephyr; 34 Injured

Chicago, April 4 (AP)—A tractor that slipped from a flat car almost onto the path of an oncoming passenger train was blamed today for the freak wreck of the Burlington railroad Twin City Zephyr in which two passengers died and 34 other persons were injured.

The eight car steel streamliner, bound for Chicago from Minneapolis and St. Paul, was traveling its usual 75-mile an hour speed when it plowed into the tractor late last night at suburban Downers Grove.

The Diesel engine swayed from side to side, pushing along the heavy obstruction. The action snapped the coupling to the coaches and the engine continued on for two blocks and then spun over on its side.

The first and second coaches jack-knifed and smashed against the deserted brick and concrete railroad station, caving in a part of the building wall. Most of the injured were in the first coach, which was sheared open by the impact. The remaining six coaches also left the rails but remained upright.

The dead were Lloyd W. Wright, 48, Oak Park salesman, killed in the wreck and Edith Holland of Minneapolis who died from injuries today in a Hinsdale, Ill., sanitarium.

The Burlington's claims department said seven passengers and the engineer and fireman still were in hospitals. Approximately 25 other persons were treated for minor injuries and released, the department said.

The wreck was approximately nine miles east of Naperville, Ill., where 45 persons died last April 25 in a collision of two Burlington passenger trains.

Weather forecasters conjured up this vision today of what the nation's Easter morning parades will be like:

In the midwest and parts of the east, promenaders will step lively to keep warm.

Their ensemble may include umbrellas in the northeast, New York, the coastal regions of Florida and Carolina and around Kansas City.

Most of the south may expect perfect weather, with clearing skies and mild temperatures.

Partly cloudy skies were in prospect for most of the west. A storm was moving northeast over the Great Lakes area, bringing widespread rains, but forecasters said it probably would blow itself out in the St. Lawrence Valley by Saturday night, leaving cool but otherwise pleasant weather in its wake.

However, the storm brought the prospect of a "dismal" day in the extreme northeast, with heavy showers possible in some places.

Colder weather covered the western states Friday, while the south central sections experienced warm and humid conditions. Normal weather prevailed elsewhere.

High winds and fairly heavy rains were expected to accompany the Great Lakes storm on its north eastern trip, but forecasters said calm weather would follow.

RAINS INCREASE
FLOOD DANGERS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ashen skies, heavy with a threat of fresh rains, hung over Michigan as the waters of many rivers began receding from flood or near-flood levels.

The weather bureau forecast rain, occurring intermittently into next week.

Meteorologists were not alarmed although observers in some cities predicted mounting flood damage if the rains were heavy or continued.

The Flint area was menaced by rising waters of the Flint River, which went up 32 inches in three days, and COLUMBIAN, north of the city, noted an 18 inch rise that threatened its outskirts.

The Clinton River has left its banks in the Mt. Clemens area, and the Red Cedar River, although receding, remained above flood level in East Lansing and Williamstown.

The Saginaw Valley generally reported receding waters with its biggest stream, the Saginaw River, four feet below flood level.

The Shiawassee River at Owosso remained within its banks although some seepage entered basements of homes, and the Tittabawassee River stood overnight after rising.

At Frankenmuth, the Cass River was one foot from flood level but draining steadily.

Bathers' Itch Bill
Up In Legislature
For Coming Week

Lansing, April 4 (AP)—Bills which would make the pasteurization of milk compulsory and give statutory authority for the state stream control commission's "swimmers' itch" campaign were scheduled for action next week when the legislature returns after the Easter recess.

The pasteurization bill, approved in the House and reported to the floor of the Senate, was modified in committee to exempt milk sales by persons primarily engaged in farming when the sales are not more than 20 quarts a day and made on the farm, and sales to farm employees.

The "swimmers' itch" bill introduced by Senator Frank Heath, Bay City Republican, would authorize the commission to supervise chemical treatment of "aquatic nuisances" and legalize the treating of lakes and streams with chemical compounds developed to combat the malady.

NEW EFFORTS ARE MADE TO
AVERT STRIKETRUMAN AUTHORITY
DISPUTED; TIEUP
MAY BE MONDAY

BY NORMAN WALKER
Washington, April 4 (AP)—The possibility that a nation-wide telephone strike may occur even if the government seizes the industry arose tonight when the union leadership challenged the government's seizure powers.

Joseph A. Byrne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, threatening a strike Monday, said Attorney General Clark's opinion that President Truman has legal seizure authority is "contrary to the opinion of our legal counsel."

Byrne left open the question whether the telephone workers will stay on the job if the president takes over the industry.

Clark had ruled earlier that the president may exercise war powers in the federal communications act to seize the industry.

Law Stretched
After a meeting of the NFWT policy committee Byrne told reporters:

"The attorney general's opinion is contrary to the opinion of our legal counsel. He is stretching the law to the breaking point in handing down such a decision. If seizure is decided upon by the president we will then determine what action is to be taken."

These developments came as negotiations in the dispute took on a more hopeful tone—with the strike deadline hardly more than two days off.

Regarding prospective action by governors of several states to invoke newly enacted state laws banning strikes in key utilities, Byrne issued this statement:

"We will resist action of states that deny to us rights guaranteed under federal law. No state can circumvent the federal constitutional guarantees against involuntary servitude."

While telephone workers will respect the law, they believe that governors who can take such action to ban a strike expose themselves to a charge of being

TWO INJURED IN TRUCK FIRE

Phillips 66 Gasoline
Vehicle Overturns,
Burns On US-2

Hermansville, April 4—Robert Larson, 22, and his wife, Lois, 19, of 1541 South Stephenson avenue, Iron Mountain, are being treated in Penn hospital, Norway, for injuries suffered when a loaded Phillips 66 gasoline truck the former was driving overturned and burned at 7:45 this morning on US-2 one mile east of Hermansville.

Mr. Larson suffered a dislocated right hip, abrasions, scalp cuts and other minor bruises and injuries, and Mrs. Larson sustained cuts and minor bruises and injuries. They were given emergency treatment at Pinecrest sanatorium in Powers before being removed to Penn hospital.

The truck was being returned to Iron Mountain from a gasoline storage tank at Salding, where it had been loaded with 2,000 gallons of gasoline when the mishap occurred. It had a capacity of 3,000 gallons, but because of existing road weight restrictions, it was not fully loaded. The exact cause of the accident has not been determined.

It was apparent, however, police said, that the truck was out of control when it tipped over and exploded. The truck was a total loss. Traffic on US-2 was blocked for an hour and a half this morning following the accident. The truck was owned by Curt Witte, Phillips 66 agent, Iron Mountain.

TITLE CHANGED
Lansing, April 3 (AP)—The State liquor control commission today changed the title of Brig. Gen. Louis A. Kunz from business manager to executive director of the commission. Chairman Owen J. Cleary said the new title better fitted Kunz's duties.

Escanaba Man Fined For Drunk Driving

Henry A. Boggs, 35, of 1521 Stephenson avenue, yesterday was released from jail in Iron Mountain after paying a fine imposed in municipal court there following his plea of guilty to a drunk driving charge. Boggs was arrested by Iron Mountain police Wednesday.

Boggs is still awaiting completion of his examination in Justice Henry Ranguette's court in Escanaba on a charge of breaking and entering in the night time. He is at liberty under $1,000 bond. His examination was continued March 20 on his promise that he would seek to reenter military service.

TB Chest X-Rays Start In Delta County Monday

For the first time in the history of Delta county every resident, no matter where he may live—will have the opportunity to have his chest X-rayed to determine whether he has tuberculosis. This service is free and is supplied by the state health department's mobile X-ray bus.

The mobile X-ray bus will open its month-long tour of the county in the Garden community hall at 11 a. m. Monday, April 7, and thereafter will visit every major community in the county.

No undressing is necessary, but everyone is urged to wear plain clothing that does not have metal trimmings or buttons in the chest area. Buttons down the front of a shirt will not spoil the X-ray film, but they will interfere if they are located on the shirt pockets.

In Garden the X-ray unit will be in service from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., and from 1:30 p. m. to 4 p. m. Monday, April 7.

During those hours the people of the Garden area have been requested not to use electrical equipment so that sufficient power will be available for good films. People of the Garden community who are cooperating in getting people out to have their chests X-rayed include Edward LaMothe, secretary of the Garden Peninsula Lions club; and Postmaster Roland Boudreau. Mrs. Alfred LaValle is chairman of the group of volunteers who will assist at the X-ray unit. Residents of Fairbanks township are urged to come to Garden for their examinations.

On the following day, Tuesday, April 8, the X-ray unit will be at the Nahma club house from 1:30 p. m. to 7 p. m.

Those who are cooperating in making the visit of the bus to Nahma a success are George Pinal, Nahma superintendent of schools; William Acher, manager of the Bay de Noc Lumber company; and Mrs. Isabella Hescott, PTA president, who will be chairman of volunteer help at the bus. She will be assisted by Mrs. Herbert Blowers and others.

Following is the complete schedule for the X-ray unit in Delta county this coming week:

Monday—Garden community hall, 11 a. m. to 1 p. m.; and 1:30 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Tuesday—Nahma club house, 1:30 p. m. to 7 p. m.

Wednesday—Rapid River high school, 1:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.; and 6:30 p. m. to 8 p. m.

Thursday—Gladstone high school, 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon; and 1 p. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Friday—Gladstone, Rialto theater, 2 p. m. to 7 p. m.; and 8 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

Officers of the Perkins post announced that forms for those who have not yet applied are available at the Village Inn and postoffice, where aid in filling out the forms will be given.

Bowling Pins Will Be Manufactured

Iron Mountain—Manufacture of bowling pins will be undertaken by the Northern Maple company, recently established in former Penn Iron Mine buildings in Vulcan, Robert Budinger, superintendent, announced.

The decision to concentrate on this phase of manufacturing was reached, Mr. Budinger explained, owing to the shortage of bowling pins throughout the country and the abundance of maple in this area.

Although considerable difficulty has been experienced in securing materials to equip and complete the plant, Mr. Budinger expects to be producing pins by July 1.

The manufacture of bowling pins will not be new to the superintendent, who supervised such production on the West coast for several years. He is supplying such nationally known alleys as the Sunset Bowling Center, owned and operated by Warner Brothers; the Tower Bowl, in San Diego and the Downtown Bowl in San Francisco.

Owls are 10 times better mousers than cats.

DeKleine said. It was second only to "heart disease" in causes of death among Michigan people.

One out of every seven persons who died in the state last year died of cancer, compared with the national average of one in eight, he reported.

A REFUTATION

The Michigan Bell Telephone company states in their paid advertisement that they raised wages 68% in the last 6 years. This is an overall figure. But when the facts are considered, the bulk of telephone employees fall within the low paid bracket. And in view of the large increase of employees during this time, the percentage figure is meaningless. Toprate employees would gladly settle for what the company claims to have already done.

The telephone company's insinuation that all subscribers' bills will be increased $1.50 a month is ridiculous. The Unions feel that the newspaper readers will not be fooled by innuendo. For instance—other than that paid by the telephone subscribers, the company derives a large share of its profits from toll calls, pay station usage, teletype writer rentals, leased wires, switch board and other miscellaneous services. Also not mentioned by the company during the 6 year period of wage increases, the Michigan Bell Telephone was compelled to lower its rates, and in 1946 its profits increased.

Signed,

Labor Recommends JACKSON

The Escanaba Trades and Labor Council, composed of twenty - five local unions, at their March meeting said:

WHEREAS, Glenn W. Jackson, in thirty - five years of active prominent residence in this general community has been untouched by scandal, hint or repute of wrong-doing, and has so lived and conducted himself so as to have and maintain a spotless, unsullied, reputation: and

WHEREAS, it is the opinion of the Escanaba Trades and Labor council that Glenn W. Jackson has the judicial temperament, the legal ability, the fairness and impartiality, the wisdom and experience, the trustworthiness and humanity, the character and integrity, required by the nature of the office of Circuit Judge,

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the members of the organizations which constitute the authority and the membership of the Escanaba Trades and Labor Council do bend their efforts towards securing the election of Glenn W. Jackson as Circuit Judge for the 25th Judicial Circuit of Michigan in the forthcoming election, April 7th, 1947.

Vote For Jackson

NEXT Monday, April 7, voters of the 25th judicial district, which embraces the counties of Delta, Menominee, Marquette, Dickinson and Iron, will elect a circuit judge to succeed Frank Bell, of Negaunee, who is retiring at the conclusion of his present term on Dec. 31, 1947.

As a result of the voting in the primary election in February, the field of candidates for the judgeship has been reduced to two men—Glenn W. Jackson, of Gladstone, and Ray Derham, of Iron Mountain.

The Escanaba Daily Press unequivocally endorses the candidacy of Glenn Jackson and urges his election to the circuit bench.

The 25th judicial district is an exceptionally large circuit, comprising a population of approximately over 160,000 persons. The judge of the circuit has the responsibilities of vast importance. He must be a man of great character, firm but understanding judgment, fearless, fair, with expansive knowledge of the history, social and economic development of the area he serves and, of course, he must have a broad background in law.

Glenn W. Jackson fulfills these requirements completely. He has been city attorney in Gladstone continuously since 1912 and served as Delta county prosecuting attorney from 1927 to 1933. His experiences as prosecuting attorney have nobly fitted him to understand many of the complex problems of human relationship that a circuit judge is called upon to solve.

Most important, Glenn Jackson's 37 years of experience in the legal profession has provided him with an extensive knowledge of law, shrewd judgment and common sense.

Jackson has witnessed the change in the character of criminal litigation from cases arising out of fights and brawls to those involving mainly young men in their teens who have broken away from the steady influences of the home and church. He understands the problems of modern society. Particularly he knows the problems of the working man, for he has worked on a farm, in the woods and in a lumber mill before he entered the legal profession.

It is especially significant that the people of Gladstone who know Glenn Jackson most intimately, supported him solidly in the primary election. Of all the votes cast for five candidates in the primary election in the city of Gladstone, 97 per cent were for Jackson. It was a splendid tribute from his neighbors.

The contest for district judge may be close. In Iron Mountain, the home town of Jackson's opponent, the election interest is whetted by a mayoralty contest and by a special bond issue. This will surely bring out a large vote in Dickinson county which, on the basis of the returns in the primary election, will prove helpful to Derham's candidacy.

To offset this advantage for Derham, it is essential that the voters of Delta county, who are so decisively for Jackson, turn out in record numbers in Monday's election.

Housing and Growth

THE community that is growing now—adays is the one that somehow can contrive to build more homes for the people who want to live there.

One of the best indications that Escanaba is growing in this postwar era is the fact that it now leads the Upper Peninsula in residential construction. Conservative estimates place the number of new homes completed in 1946 at more than sixty. Despite advances in the prices of materials, the outlook is for much more home building this year.

Basements are being dug much earlier than usual this spring. Rough lumber for framing is in ample supply compared with last year's situation. Other materials are also easing, and so many families are undertaking the construction of the postwar "dream home" they have been anxiously waiting for, even though the cost is to be higher than they anticipated when they first began looking at pictures and drawings in the magazines and newspapers.

Residential building in Escanaba and other small towns quite likely is proceeding at a higher per capita rate than is the case in Chicago, Detroit and other big cities. Labor costs are lower in the smaller communities, and there is an absence of employer-employee conflict such as that which recently tied up the construction business in Milwaukee. Being closer to the lumber supply is also an advantage for many homes are being built with boards sawed by portable mills that are to be found all over the woods areas today.

Escanaba has done an outstanding job in attracting new industries to provide jobs for ex-service men and others. Like other communities, it has found itself short of housing, but this problem is being tackled in a manner that promises an early remedying of the situation. Incidentally, the homes are being erected as the result of individual initiative, inspired by the fact that Escanaba is a community with a bright industrial and commercial future.

Lewis On Top Again

JOHN L. Lewis has emerged from the national doghouse and is riding high again.

The astute leader of the United Mine Workers did not lose any time in capitalizing the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster to his own advantage. Had it not been for this unfortunate incident John L. Lewis probably would have never been able to emerge from the oblivion to which he was relegated after his spanking by the United States Supreme Court. Now he trods the national stage again like a colorful Shakespearean actor, dramatizing the unsafe working conditions in the coal mines to his own advantage and much to the discomfort of the mine operators and Secretary of Interior Krug.

Secretary Krug has ordered the closing of more than five hundred coal mines until an inspection reveals they are no longer hazardous for the workers. By this drastic order, he has given John L. Lewis more ammunition in his fight for better wages and working conditions for his union miners.

Of course, if these coal mines have not been operated in observance of standard safety regulations there should not be any delay in putting them into proper shape. Mines must be made safe for human beings to work in, even though at the time the situation may play into the hands of a ruthless and powerful John L. Lewis, whose past record shows he will stop at nothing to achieve his end.

Beautiful Dream

A CENTURY ago Victor Hugo, great French writer, predicted that the day would come when two huge unions, the United States of America and the United States of Europe, would greet each other across the Atlantic.

He said: "They will exchange their goods, their commerce, their industry, their art and their genius to civilize the globe, to fertilize deserts, to improve creation under the eyes of the Creator. They will assure the greatest benefit for all by combining these infinite forces; they will show forth the brotherhood of man and confirm the might of God."

Hugo wasn't really much of a prophet. The United States of Europe never seemed farther away than it is today. There is a one-way exchange of goods and commerce, not two-way. America is stripping herself of needed food and supplies to aid those whom she has befriended across the water, but she would be foolish indeed to expect any gratitude for so doing. There is just one name for Uncle Sam in Europe, outside, perhaps, of Scandinavia and Switzerland, and that is Skylock.

Instead of fertilizing the deserts of the United States and Russia, we are using them as proving-grounds for bigger and better atomic bombs. Presently, unless there is a change in the minds of men, we shall be improving creation by blowing sundry enemies out of it, and according to their lights they will be doing the same to us.

WHOM CAN FRANCO FOOL?

(Milwaukee Journal) Spain's Franco, last of the Axis or pro-Axis dictators, now pretends to believe that the rest of the world has come around to his point of view. It has, he says, joined him in hating and fearing communism.

The easiest answer to Franco's preposterous claim that the world now sides with him may be obtained by asking this question: "Does Franco think that the rest of the world has come around to Hitler's or Mussolini's view?"

The answer to that question should be the answer to Franco. Hitler and his Nazis, Mussolini, adorer of nazism and fascism, is no more acceptable to the world today than he was when he was extending fervent wishes to the Fuehrer for his triumph over the democratic nations.

Let no one forget that. It doesn't make any difference whether Franco proclaims that Spain is a monarchy or not, whether he restores some moth eaten king or not. As long as Franco and his gang are the real power, Spain remains a clerical-fascist state.

The fact that many nations oppose dictatorial communism does not mean that they accept dictatorial fascism.

Whom can Franco fool? He has fooled a lot of Americans but they ought to begin to see things now.

St. Paul: Why do women speak of a kind of house slipper as a "mule"?—V. A. C.

Answer: This particular mule has no connection with the hybrid draught animal. This mule entered English from the French from the Latin muleus, "a reddish or purple-colored shoe." In ancient times the muleus was worn only by the three highest magistrates.

Q. Is there any difference in the pronunciation of canvas and canvass, and are the words related?—Mrs. A. C.

Answer: The words are pronounced alike: KAN-v's.

Canvas, the cloth, is from the Latin canablis, "the hemp plant," suggesting that originally the cloth was woven of hemp.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—With authority divided between the states and the federal government, no one bears the final responsibility for enforcing mine safety.

That is why tragedies like the Centralia coal-mine disaster can occur.

This is the conclusion of those who have studied the careful, unemotional report which Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug submitted to the Senate committee investigating the disaster at Centralia. That disaster took 111 lives in a mine that had been repeatedly reported for safety violations.

Up to the time that the federal government seized the bituminous coal mines on May 22, 1946, the report points out, federal authority over mine safety was limited to recommendations which the mine operator might or might not accept. The Bureau of Mines in the Department of the Interior had 180 inspectors to cover the 2300 mines which the government took over.

—INSPECTED LAST NOVEMBER—

Obviously, they could not visit every one of these mines with sufficient frequency to insure that a condition of "imminent danger" did not exist which would necessitate an order closing down the mine. Under the safety provision agreed to by the coal mines administration and the United Mine Workers, all reports on inspection were to be sent to both district and national offices of the union. Clearly, Krug told the Senate committee, even minimum safety could be achieved only through the full cooperation of labor and management.

On Nov. 4, 1946, the Centralia mine was inspected by Krug's inspectors. While a condition of "imminent danger" was not found, the inspectors' report listed 61 items of non-compliance, of which 19 were considered of "major importance." On Nov. 25, the coal mines administrator directed the operator of the Centralia mine to comply with the inspection reports.

These reports were posted at the mine. They were sent to the United Mine Workers district office in Springfield, Ill., and to the National office in Washington, which is headquarters for John L. Lewis. A check on progress in the mine's safety program was made on March 17, and again reports were made to the union. A later check, according to the report submitted to the senate, indicated that misleading information had come from the operating manager of the mine.

Senators who have had an opportunity to examine the Krug report are impressed by the way in which authority is divided so that, even under federal operation, enforcement of safety regulations was extremely difficult. Krug can point out that, under government direction, the safety record improved although the miners were at the same time digging a record volume of coal.

—46-YEAR DEATH TOLL—

During the past 46 years there have been 71,030 recorded mine fatalities, an average of 129 deaths every month. The current fatality rate of 85 a month is somewhat better than the average of recent years.

What must be faced up to is the fact that, at the latest, on June 30 the authority of the federal government ends. On that date the coal mines must revert to private ownership. Who is then to be responsible for enforcing mine-safety standards? Is all responsibility of government to be evaded in the void that exists between state and federal power?

Sen. Gay Cordon of Oregon, chairman of the investigating committee, has a high reputation as an investigator. On the spot at Centralia, he should dig deep into the whole sordid mess. He can readily determine why state inspection failed.

The sordid story of that failure is being unfolded. Rep. Melvin Price of Illinois put into the congressional record the account from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch detailing how the director of the department of mines in Springfield had himself solicited contributions from mine operators for the Republican candidate in Chicago's mayoralty election. This is said to have been done with the approval of Gov. Dwight Green.

Mine inspection by the state was tangled up with politics. It was a farce that ended with the terrible tragedy at Centralia.

State laws should provide safety standards. Those standards should be enforced by honest inspectors divorced from politics. But if this is impossible, then the federal government will have to impose national standards and enforce them. That is the reality of the choice behind the false cry of "States' Rights."

from this old verb canvass we have the modern verb and noun canvass.

Q. What is the origin of the word cockroach?—Mrs. W. L.

Answer: It is an English corruption of the Spanish cucaracha, pronounced: KOO-kab-RAH'chah.

Q. What is the relation between a magazine (publication) and a powder magazine?—Col. J. W.

Answer: Let us start with the Arabic word makhzan, "storehouse; granary." This became the French word magasin, "a shop; a storehouse for merchandise." Magasin entered English as magazine, "a storehouse or depot." Periodicals covering a wide variety of subjects were called magazines because they were thought of as storehouses of information.

Now the English term magazine for the periodical appealed so strongly to the French that they borrowed it and made it a part of their language, calling it "un mot anglais" (an English word).

This is how the French word magasin, pronounced ma-ga-z'AN, "a store," went to England, acquired a new spelling, a new pronunciation, and a new meaning, and then returned to France as an entirely new French word of English origin!

A Watched Kettle Never Boils

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

LET'S BE THOUGHTFUL —In the news the other day was the story of a man who had been sentenced to death for the mass murder of four million prisoners. He was sentenced in Warsaw by the national tribunal.

The man who will die is Rudolf Hoess, wartime Nazi commandant of the notorious Auschwitz extermination camp. It was a little story. Just one paragraph long. An unimportant little story competing for attention with history that is being made today.

So many things are happening these days that it is difficult to remember that World War II was a fearful time, a horrible period of killing. The little echoes mean nothing now. Rudolf Hoess is sentenced to death for killing four million prisoners. But the four million have been dead for several years, and Hoess will soon be dead, and that will be the end of that.

PEACE FOR THE WORLD

When the war was in progress Americans made a firm resolve that never again would they isolate themselves from the world. The United States was a strong country. It would in the years of peace shape the world more closely to its heart's desire.

And now the peace is here, and the shaping is under way. Yet there are doubts and misgivings.

The anticipated cooperation from other countries has not been what Americans think it should be. Russia is accused of unnecessarily using the power of the veto in the United Nations conference. Russia is influencing other countries. Russia is a power to be feared. Russia is directing Communist activities in the United States. Communists "menace Michigan," Gov. Sigler says in Washington.

IT TAKES COURAGE

—There is a tangible and growing fear of Russia and of Communism in this country.

With that fear goes an unsure hand in the shaping of peace. Nothing good can be accomplished without a firm resolve in the rightness of what we do. Presidential pronouncements that this country will aid Greece and Turkey are countered by more thoughtful advice from Senator Vandenberg that such steps should be passed on by the United Nations.

We have United States troops in southern Korea. Russia is reported to have 500,000 Koreans under arms in northern Korea.

There are those who advocate a "showdown" with Russia, who declare that Russia is "stalling" for time through the United Nations, and that the United States should take direct steps to "halt Russia now."

Back of all this is fear.

WHY WE FEAR—Communism threatens the status quo. It threatens change in a changing world. To the previously oppressed it offers liberty from the old governmental forms that to them spell oppression. To the democracies it threatens the freedom of the individual.

We should not make the mistake of forgetting that the Communistic ideology we fear is seen by others as their only hope. They embrace Communism wholeheartedly. That may sound strange to us. But there are millions of people in China, in Korea in

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Springersville, Ariz.—A ground party led by Sheriff John Nunn plodded up the snow-clogged slopes of Mount Baldy late today toward the tangled wreckage of a huge skyliner sighted several hours earlier from a searching plane.

Within the next week or ten days it is expected that Escanaba's municipally-owned sandusker dredge will be ready to start work in the new yacht harbor off Ludington park.

A 28-months old girl, whom a Washington university psychologist described as "the most remarkable child I have ever seen," knows that King Edward "abdicated for Mrs. Wallis Simpson." "Growing Pains," a three act comedy by Auranio Rouverol, dealing with youth of sixteen or thereabouts, was presented for the entertainment of a large audience in St. Joseph auditorium last evening, by the senior class of the St. Joseph high school.

Twenty Years Ago

Paro, Wyo.—Fifteen workmen were killed and seven others were injured by an explosion and ensuing fire at the refinery of the Producers and Refiners corporation here early today.

The visit of the 55-piece band of the University of Michigan to Escanaba on April 16, will be the means of helping some young man and some young woman to get a college education. Profits from the two concerts will be divided between the Escanaba Woman's club and the University of Michigan Alumni club.

The musical talent in the grade schools of this city was not lacking was demonstrated at the auditorium of the Escanaba high school yesterday afternoon when 20 boys, comprising the Boy's glee club of the Franklin eighth grade rendered three numbers to the high school student body.

Greece and Turkey who turn to Communism because it means change—and any change is welcomed.

To Americans, except for an inconsequential minority, change to Communism is unthinkable. We have what we want. We are content with it. Any proposal to take from us that with which we are content brings violent opposition, indicating our fear of losing what we have.

FOREIGN POLICY

Undoubtedly this fear colors our foreign policy and creates uncertainty as to our motives.

We do not fear Great Britain, therefore we agree to placing the Palestine question before the United Nations in special session.

We do fear Russia, therefore the equally explosive question of rivalry between opposing factions in Korea, Greece and Turkey is not given to the United Nations for settlement.

Rather we propose—without United Nations action and a possible Russian veto—direct aid to anti-Communist forces in Greece and Turkey, and direct military strengthening of anti-Communist forces in Korea.

A MARTYR'S WAR—After the first world war the people of Germany turned to martyrdom as a national policy. As martyrs they enjoyed their national suffering, and martyred themselves into a military force for retaliation. And in World War II they died again as martyrs—but in their frenzy they murdered millions of people.

Now one man has been sentenced to death. He is Rudolf Hoess, wartime Nazi commandant of the notorious Auschwitz extermination camp where the mass murder of four million prisoners occurred.

Q. I made a business loan under the G. I. Bill several months ago. It looks as if I can not make payments much longer. Will my bank have any grace period before they inform the VA that I may be in default of the loan?

A. The lending agency is required by law to report the matter to the VA if you are in default more than six months. Furthermore, it is within the lender's prerogative to do so after one or three months in default of such loan.

Q. Does the VA have to approve any course of education I pursue under the G. I. Bill?

A. No. An eligible veteran may elect his course and choose any State-approved educational institution in which he is able to enroll.

Q. Are any of the National A. U. boxing champions from Hawaii?

A. Yes. David Bona, 112 lb. class; Tsuneshi Naruo, 118 lb. class; and Robert Takeshita, 147 lb. class.

Q. Where in the human body is alcohol most destructive?

A. On the brain and spinal cord. In the smallest doses and in the briefest time it dulls the capacity of the brain to think and of the spinal cord to coordinate the action of the muscles and of the body.

Q. Which Protestant denomination claimed the most members in 1946?

A. The Methodist Church which had 8,083,767 members in 40,698 churches.

Q. Are there more than a thousand coffee beans in a pound of ground coffee?

A. Yes, there are approximately 2800 beans to a pound of ground coffee.

Q. How can I clean an old waffle iron which hasn't been used for awhile?

A. Rub the inside with a piece of dampened steel wool, wipe with a cloth dampened in warm water, then wipe dry. To place in working order, grease the grids lightly with melted, unsalted fat, run at a low temperature for about 10 minutes, then wipe with paper toweling.

Q. In what class of naval vessels did Great Britain exceed the U. S.?

A. In Light Cruisers. As of January 1946, Britain had 50 and the U. S. had only 41. However, in other classes the U. S. exceeded Britain.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—The first Athens flash on King George's death made some State Department officials believe momentarily that divine providence had gone to the rescue of the Greek loan program. King George, a notorious reactionary, had been a serious obstacle to the Truman program.

When the first news of George's death reached the State Department, therefore, Near Eastern officials proposed making a diplomatic suggestion to the Greek government that the throne be declared temporarily vacant. Had the Greeks accepted this, the prospects for forming a new, more Democratic government would have been greatly enhanced. So would the chances for passing the loan.

The State Department plied to urge restoration of the regency under Archbishop Damaskinos, and was also considering the possibility of placing liberal-minded Greek Prince Pierre on the throne—if the Greeks insisted on keeping their Monarchy.

However, before the State Department could even get off a cable to Athens, word came that George's brother, Prince Paul, had been swiftly seated on the throne. In fact, it later leaked out that the Royal Family hushed up the news of George's death so as to give time to Paul to take the oath.

The new King is even more thoroughly hated in Democratic circles than his brother. Paul's ascension now gives Greece a German Queen, Frederica, who made no bones about her split loyalties during the war. Two of her brothers fought in Hitler's army. In her Cairo home, Princess Frederica displayed autographed pictures of Nazi officials in her living room. Paul himself headed the Fascist Greek youth movement under the late Greek dictator Metaxas. In his capacity as leader of the Fascist Greek youth, Paul sent a foreign office official, C. Papadakis, to the United States during the 1939 New York World's Fair as a personal representative of the Greek Youth Fascists. When Papadakis arrived at the Fair's Greek pavilion, he shocked officials by giving the Hitler salute publicly.

So now long-suffering Greece is saddened with a new and more terroristic monarch.

NOTE—There are many precedents for declaring a Greek throne vacant or juggling the line of succession. It's been done a dozen times in Greece in the last 200 years. Kings have come and gone as if the front portals of the palace were swiftly revolving doors.

—BLACKBERRY-CORDIAL GENERAL—

Seen and heard at the gala Kremlin reception given by Foreign Minister Molotov to Foreign Ministers Bevin and Bidault and General Marshall:

Gen. Mark Clark, efficient former commander of American forces in occupied Austria, sat down to reminisce with Marshall. Koniev, who commanded the Red Army in Vienna, Koniev called a waiter and ordered large, full glasses of vodka for Clark and his American friends.

"Nyet!" remonstrated Clark politely, but Koniev insisted, and Clark decided he could not be rude.

"We've had so much of this poison in months past that Koniev is giving me his ulcer," said Clark in English, which the Soviet Marshall, of course, did not understand.

But looking over at Koniev's glass, General Clark discovered it was empty.

"Here, none of that," said Clark. But Koniev refused to take the vodka. In the end, he let the waiter fill the bottom of his glass with a little blackberry cordial.

The great, tough soldier who liberated Berlin and Prague, the hero from the Siberian wastes who bears, not one, but two stars as one of the great military men of the Soviet Union, not only didn't toss down his vodka in one gulp, but took no vodka at all.

—MINERS AT FAULT TOO—

As indicated, mine safety is not always a one-way proposition. The miners also are sometimes at fault. It is hard to get them not to carry matches and to smoke underground. And despite the fact that they are required to use rubber-soled shoes, they sometimes come in with hobnailed shoes, which strike sparks and ignite gases. Also some miners still wear nonregulation caps—sometimes the fault of the mine operators who fail to make modern caps available.

On the other hand, mine owners have difficulty these days in getting new power fans to suck the air in and out of mine shafts. New fans have been ordered by many mines, but delivery has been slow because of curtailed war production.

NOTE—Under federal operation, mine fatalities dropped to 72 per month from 93 per month when under private operation.

THIS BIRD NESTS IN MARCH—This is believed the first photograph ever made of the Canada Jay incubating its eggs. Whether the bird pictured is a male or female could not be determined because the two are similar in marking, says Gene Hesterberg, who discovered the nest.

NEST IS INSULATED—Four gray, profusely speckled eggs were laid in the nest. Hesterberg reported the nest was "well insulated" to retain the warmth of the bird's body necessary in hatching out the eggs.

TAKING A PEEK—Hesterberg carried a step-ladder for two miles through snow-filled swamps so that B. F. Schultz, Escanaba Daily Press photographer, could take pictures of the nest, located eight feet above the ground in a spruce tree.

Canada Jay Nest With Eggs Discovered Here; Sets Record In State

The Canada Jay, also known as the "Whiskey Jack," is a bird whose nest is seldom found in the United States, for it nests in March in out-of-the-way places far from man.

The first nest believed ever to have been found in Michigan with eggs in it was discovered on March 18 by Gene Hesterberg of Escanaba, who is making a deer yard study for the game division of the department of conservation. The nest is located seven miles north of Northland in the Escanaba River Tract in Marquette county.

Hesterberg observed the nest while snowshoeing through a swamp. It had been built eight feet above the ground in a spruce tree. The nest contained two eggs by March 25, and another visit to the nest March 28 revealed that a total of four eggs were being incubated.

J. Van Tyne, curator of birds at the University of Michigan museum of zoology, was informed of the discovery and wrote Hesterberg:

"Your Canada Jay record is extremely interesting. We have several Michigan records of full-winged young Canada Jays traveling with their parents, but Ben East's 1935 record from Isle Royale is still the only record. I know of an actual nest found in the state. The Isle Royale nest contained young ready to leave the nest."

Hesterberg described the Canada Jay as a bird about the size of the blue jay, or robin. This species is primarily a gray bird with blackish cap, and white throat. It is normally a bird of the swamps and coniferous forests of the north country, and apparently does not fare well with civilization. It is most common in the hard-to-reach places, where man chooses to stake out his tent for the night, or where he has built a cabin on a back forty. The "Whiskey Jack," as it is commonly called by the deer hunter who knows this bird well, breeds from the Mackenzie country east to Newfoundland, and in some places has been observed to breed in the north tier of states in the United States."

"We observed this bird in Newfoundland in the Gander River country while on an expedition for the University of Michigan, last summer. To date, this is the first pair that I have observed in this winter's deer yard survey work. One Canadian ornithological publication reports a nest observed in Manitoba when temperatures registered 50 degrees below zero, Hesterberg said.

The nest is a sizeable structure built upon a framework of dead cedar, and spruce twigs. The next layer was of moss, lichen and small bits of cotton batting, which the birds had picked up from sweepings outside a camp several hundred yards away. The inner lining of the cup-shaped nest was of deer hair and patches of fur, doubtless of the snowshoe hare. "It is not difficult to realize when observing such construction that these birds are able to incubate eggs during freezing weather," Hesterberg observed.

The deer hunter is a person well-familiar with friendly habits of this bird. In the fall, they will be the first to greet the hunter at his lodge, particularly, if they have set up their winter quarters in the vicinity of the deer camp. The bird shows very little fear of man's action, and seems ever-present whenever meat is available. If there were any Canada Jays in the vicinity, the hunter who has bagged his buck probably saw them, for these birds are quite adept at locating the hunter's kill. They are apparently quite fond of meat.

It is said that the older birds store up food during the winter. Getting bait from trapsets and from animals caught in snares, these birds supposedly hide surplus foods away in cracks of trees or under scales of protective bark. It is supposed that through this method of storage of food that the young can be maintained during a period when, vegetative or animal life are yet at a low ebb.

Frank Russell Jr. Becomes Publisher Of Two Newspapers

Marquette — Frank J. Russell, Jr., yesterday became publisher of The Mining Journal, succeeding his father, the late Frank J. Russell, Sr., who died March 18, 1947, in Florida.

Russell is succeeded as editor by E. A. Moore, who has been a member of the paper's editorial staff since July, 1919, and its managing editor since 1922.

The new publisher, associated with The Mining Journal for the last 12 years, entered the newspaper field in 1935 as a member of the editorial staff of the Rhinelander (Wis.) News, following his graduation from the University of Michigan school of journalism. After a year in Rhinelander he joined The Mining Journal editorial staff and worked here until he was commissioned in the U. S. Navy for service in World War II.

He served three and one-half years, including a tour of duty in the Pacific aboard the airplane carrier Enterprise, and resumed his work with The Mining Journal when he was released to inactive duty with the rank of lieutenant-commander.

Last year Russell succeeded his father as editor of The Mining Journal, the latter continuing as publisher.

Russell also becomes publisher of the Iron Mountain News, of which his father was editor and publisher from the time he established it in 1921. Appointed to the position of editor of the Iron Mountain News is Lawrence D. Tucker, former Marquette resident, who entered the newspaper business as a reporter for The Mining Journal in 1916. He has been associated with the Iron Mountain paper since 1925 and its managing editor since 1941.

We second the motion
We'll do our part!

International Harvester has reduced prices to save users of its products $20,000,000 a year. The reductions apply to a selected list of various products made by the Company.

In making its announcement to the general public last week, International Harvester said:

"We believe there is nothing more important to this country than to lower the prices of goods people buy."

"The American people have insisted that the government withdraw from its attempts to control prices in peacetime. That places the responsibility where it belongs—in the hands of business and industry."

"Because we believe price reduction is vital, we are willing to assume the risks involved."

As International Dealers we will do our part. We will pass International Harvester's price reductions to our customers.

And now a word of gratitude to our friends who have patiently waited for the new machines they need. As most of our customers are aware, International Harvester has done everything possible—and some things that seemed impossible—to maintain and increase production.

The outlook is somewhat better. Soon we hope to supply equipment to all of those who have cooperated so faithfully with us.

Meanwhile, the same top-quality International Service and Parts that have kept equipment operating for our customers during the difficult years are available from us. We urge our friends to continue to use these facilities to obtain maximum operating economy.

International Harvester is doing its part with quality, increased production and reduced prices.

We will do our part in this territory

BABSON FAVORS SMALL CITIES

Business Opportunities Are Plentiful In Rural Areas

BY ROGER W. BABSON
New York City—Many letters have come to me saying: "Knowing you do not like investments in big cities such as New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Pittsburgh, what would you suggest 'as insurance' for those who do live in these or other big cities? My answer is very simple,—namely, to invest some of your money in small cities and well-diversified industries. Very big cities have reached their maximum of influence; their real estate will gradually decline in value; their workers will be less efficient; their cost uprisings from within and attacks from without will continually increase.

Bullish On Small Cities
I believe it is safe to say that locally controlled businesses in rural self-supporting and self-contained areas will more and more flourish. What sort of businesses in these rural areas offer the best opportunities? Here are some suggestions:

(1) Locally controlled grain handlers to supply the staff of life; manufacturers of building materials, such as gypsum, lumber, cement, lead, copper;
(2) Bus, truck and airline transportation companies which will be called on to handle a much increased business;

(3) Local oil producers and distributors in contrast to the larger operators with refineries in big cities; also coal and wood yards;

(4) Local hotels and restaurants which will be called on to accommodate the continual influx from large industrial centers destined to suffer from unemployment;

(5) Local trading companies in a position to either sell for cash or barter the valuables most easily transported such as silver, gold ornaments, platinum or diamonds, for living necessities....

(6) Automobile and farm machinery repair shops which should run to capacity plus;

(7) Any well-located buildings of large capacity, which would be in demand for conversion for any of the above purposes.

Own Certain Real Estate

There should be added to this list existing homes and especially small farms over fifty miles from large cities. That is, cottages off the main line, which are not dependent upon the operation of a public utility. Merchants should carry a full line of wood, coal and oil stoves, kerosene lamps and candles as well as a big supply of canned goods. Don't always bank on others to supply garden pro-

LAWMAKERS X-RAYED—In Lansing shortly after the legislative session began the lawmakers had their pictures taken—but they were pictures of their chests, not their faces. Cooperating in the examination for TB is Rep. Roy A. Jensen of Escanaba, Delta county representative in the legislature. Similar examinations will be available free to Delta county residents starting next week.

duce, but each year plan enough of a garden to supply vegetables for sustenance and for canning in season. Remember that potatoes, beans and greens will furnish as good a diet as millions live on today.

It might be suggested that dollar bills, stored in a safe deposit vault would be a good hedge if another war or depression comes. That may not be true. Far better have some good jewels in your safe deposit box! What about local bank stocks? The business of small banks may become very profitable. But large holdings of depreciated securities might make their stocks of little value. However, banks with their chief assets distributed throughout the Central West and South should be safe.

Don't Be An Isolationist

We should continue to put forth our best efforts to make the United Nations a success and free the world both from another war and depression even while reshaping our investment and living program along the above lines. Because we take out a fire insurance policy it does not mean that we expect our home to burn. Surely business should waste no time in decentralizing its operations; the military should be al-

Women Of England Ridicule Proposal For Going Barefoot

London, (AP)—The women of Britain, urged to go barefoot all summer in view of the shoe shortage, have sent up such wails of anguish that you would have thought they had already taken off their shoes and waded through broken glass.

A private citizen, C. Watford Sinclair, offered the suggestion in a letter to the Popular Weekly Picture Post. Fresh from a tour of Portugal, Austria "and several other continental countries where many of the women habitually go barefoot," he wrote:

"A barefoot fashion for girls (in this country) would be both healthy and attractive, as I can testify from observing the girls of the above countries, who have shapely feet unspoiled by shoes, and whose carriage is the most graceful in the world."

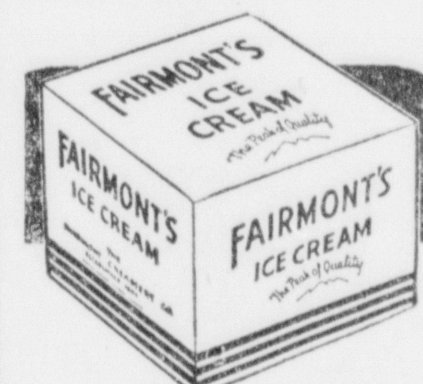

There was a quick poll of women readers of the magazine.

"Isn't that exactly like a man?" demanded a smart young woman in suede pumps. "Shopping for shoes is X X X one of the few pleasures we have left."

"Gosh," said a housewife in sandals, "the girls would get flat-footed and look all sloppy. I like to go barefooted but—well, it's too hot on your feet, for one thing."

Shoes are rationed here and the ration was tightened only today.

A foot specialist (male) said that the barefoot fashion, in moderation, might be healthful for some women.

Telephone wage rates are good . . . comparing favorably with others in the community for work requiring similar skill.

Telephone people have steady work and good working conditions.

They have holidays, and vacations with pay of one, two or three weeks, depending on length of service.

In sickness, they receive payments from the company . . . with full cost paid by the company.

In retirement, they receive monthly pensions for life . . . with full cost paid by the company.

In death, their dependents receive payments from the company . . . with full cost paid by the company.

All these benefits—together with good wages — are provided in present contracts.

Michigan Bell has offered to extend or renew these liberal contracts.

The unions have not accepted that offer.

Union demands would cost an additional $26,000,000 a year.

That amounts to $1.50 a MONTH for every telephone.

A telephone strike will mean inconvenience, confusion and danger for the public.

A strike will cost telephone employees — and Michigan communities — about $1,000,000 a week in lost wages.

To prevent a strike, Michigan Bell has offered to arbitrate the wage dispute before a panel of representative Michigan citizens.

We are willing to abide entirely by the decision of the arbitrators.

The unions have not accepted that offer.

WDBC Dedication Today; Open House From Noon To Nine O'clock

BUSY PROGRAM IS SCHEDULED

Haydn Evans, Green Bay, Will Give Address At 12 O'clock

The Escanaband radio station WDBC will have open house from noon to nine p. m. today upon the occasion of the formal dedication of the station under its new management. Visitors will be welcomed at the studios during those hours and they will be given an opportunity to inspect the studios and to watch the broadcasting operations.

The dedication address will be given at noon by Haydn Evans, general manager of station WTAQ, Green Bay, and the response will be made by John P. Norton, president of the Delta Broadcasting company.

Two special musical features will be presented during the one hour dedication broadcast from noon to one o'clock this afternoon. Uncle Louie and His Town Hall Players of Green Bay, an outstanding comedy and musical group, will present a series of numbers during the period and Sam Ham, talented tenor and production manager of WDBC, will sing several selections.

Brief speeches also will be made by Mayor Marvin Coon and by Dudley Jewell, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, during the program.

This afternoon at two o'clock there will be a special WDBC dedication party at the Delft theatre for youngsters, at which time regular matinee film program will be shown and Uncle Louie and his troupe will appear for a half hour of home grown comedy.

From 3:30 to 5:30 this afternoon, there will be open house at the Ludington hotel for Escanaba businessmen.

Started In 1941

The dedication program will be concluded with a free public dance tonight from nine until midnight at the St. Joseph parish hall, with Uncle Louie and his band performing.

Radio station WDBC went on the air in September, 1941, owned and operated by the Delta Broadcasting company which at that time comprised a corporation consisting of Gordon Brozek, station manager, Leo Broit, Frank Russell, Jr., all of Marquette; Gerald Cleary and A. J. Perrin, of Escanaba.

In June of last year an Escanaba syndicate comprising John P. Norton, Frank Lindenthal and William J. Duchaine effected a sales agreement to purchase the stock of the Delta Broadcasting company from the Marquette group and the Federal Communications Commission approved the transfer Dec. 31, 1946.

The new company took over the operation of the radio station January 7 of this year.

George Lindenthal is manager of station WDBC and Sam Ham is program and production director. Other members of the staff include John Rooney, announcer; Mrs. John Rooney, known to thousands of Escanaband women as "Trudy"; director of women's programs; Esther Eckland, receptionist; Jack Foster and Henry Olsen, engineers.

Station WDBC operates on an assigned frequency of 1490 kilocycles by authority of the Federal Communications Commission with a power of 250 watts. The area served by the station embraces all or parts of six counties—Delta, Menominee, Alger, Dickinson and Marquette.

The Escanaba station is affiliated with the Mutual Broadcasting company, the world's largest radio network. The station also is served with 24 hour news service by telephone from the United Press and maintains a music transcription library containing over 3500 records.

STATION MANAGER—George D. Lindenthal is manager of the Escanaband radio station WDBC, a position to which he was appointed in January when the new ownership took over the operation of the local station. Lindenthal is a graduate of Michigan State college and was a member of the advertising staff of the Escanaba Daily Press for a number of years.

Uncle Louie Has Built Big Radio Following

Uncle Louie and his Town Hall Players, who will be featured in the WDBC dedication program here today and this evening, have built a tremendous radio following in Green Bay and Southeastern Wisconsin.

Twenty-five years ago and more when the Winninger Brothers had a traveling show troupe in Wisconsin, one of their cast was a young boy in his teens named Leo Reeths. After many successful years of touring throughout Wisconsin and the adjoining states the Winninger Brothers show broke up with one of the brothers,

Charley, migrating to Los Angeles to become a well-known movie actor. The young lad, Leo Reeths, drifted around Wisconsin, doing vaudeville acts at different theatres and playing roles with traveling shows.

Approximately 10 years ago Mr. Reeths teamed up with three other well-known actors throughout this area, Edgar Jason, Bernie Collier and Earl McNeils. This organization became known as the Town Hall Players. Other actors and musicians were added to the troupe until a total of 12 men and women were included in the cast. During 1939 and '40 the Town Hall Players toured the southern part of Wisconsin, playing in a different small town or city each night. Leo Reeths, playing the character part of Uncle Louie soon became a household word. In fact, special plays were written around this character part—plays such as "Uncle Louie Takes the Cure", "Uncle Louie Meets the G-Man", and "Uncle Louie Meets the Widow."

In 1941 a Northeastern Wisconsin radio station offered Uncle Louie and the Town Hall Players an attractive proposition to switch their activities to the northeastern half of the State and portions of Upper Michigan. The offer was accepted, and for the last six years the Town Hall Players have been a daily radio feature as well as a nighttime attraction for those who like good, clean comedy and music.

The Town Hall Players recently arranged with the Ford Motor company to build them a special bus in which to travel. So early each evening a big blue and white bus may be seen pulling out of Green Bay to some city, town or hamlet. In addition to staging a 3-act play, the Town Hall Players carry their own 6-piece orchestra which furnishes music for dancing after the final curtain has rung down. The average attendance at a Town Hall show and dance is in excess of 500 people, with the audience often running into the thousands.

With industrial production at a peacetime record level, consumers as a group have sufficient buying power, officials said, to purchase quality food at rates considerably above pre-war levels.

Nevertheless, the department expects food prices to decline during the latter part of the year. It has said farm prices may drop as much as 20 per cent if its forecast of a business recession late this year is borne out.

RADIO IS ONLY 26 YEARS OLD

KDKA Of Pittsburgh Was First Station On The Air

Radio's growth to its present stage of performing daily miracles makes it difficult to realize that the industry is only 26 years old. In that short time, 1,579 broadcasting stations have begun operation or have been authorized to construct standard, or amplitude modulation, facilities. In addition, permits have been issued by the federal communications commission for 143 frequency modulation stations which cannot be heard on most radio receiving sets.

The technical history of commercial radio dates from Nov. 1, 1920, when the Westinghouse Electric station, KDKA in Pittsburgh, was placed in regular operation. In contrast to the acoustically-superior studios of WDBC, KDKA's first studio was the garage adjacent to the home of Dr. Conrad, an engineer associated with the company.

The only receiving sets in the hands of the public in those days were confined to amateur telegraph operators. Scratchy, hollow-roll phonograph records made up the bulk of the program content, and in order to overcome the extremely bad acoustical conditions Dr. Conrad purchased and erected a canvas tent inside his garage which helped to reduce the reverberations.

Second Station

On June 1, 1921, Westinghouse Electric opened its second station, WJZ, in New York, which, however, did not begin a regular program schedule until the following October. The first full-time announcer, Milton J. Cross, was engaged by WJZ at that time and he is still heard regularly on the networks.

In the early days of broadcasting, transmitting conditions were extremely bad, receiving sets were crude, static was present to an almost intolerable degree and program content was dull.

Advertising was the fairy godmother of the broadcasting business. The principal problem at first was how to finance the programs which were essential if radio receiving sets were to be sold. The opinion was practically unanimous that, if possible, a government subsidy should be avoided, as being un-American and involving serious dangers to our form of government. Advertising by radio was the answer.

The first advertising client was the Queensboro Corporation, a real estate company which was developing a section of Jackson Heights, Long Island, and this first commercial program—on Aug. 28, 1922—was a distinct success.

Noteworthy "Firsts"

Here are some noteworthy "firsts" in radio history:

Oct. 28, 1922—First broadcast over long lines, Princeton-Chicago football game sent from Chicago to New York for broadcast by WEAF.

Nov. 11, 1922—First opera broadcast, "Aida."

Nov. 18, 1922—Inauguration of weekly concerts by New York Philharmonic orchestra.

June 21, 1922—First presidential broadcast over long lines, by President Harding from St. Louis Coliseum on subject, "World Court."

July 1, 1923—Beginning of regular network broadcasting.

By the end of 1923, there were 542 broadcasting stations in operation in the United States. The mortality rate was high, however, because in that year 264 new stations were licensed and 236 stations discontinued operations. Leaders in the broadcasting industry are pre-

Be Natural When Facing Microphone

Like any other art, radio broadcasting usually takes years of study and experience to master. However, don't be alarmed if you find occasion to represent your organization on a broadcast, for persons from coast to coast are making infrequent appearances before a microphone and finding acceptance because their talks observe a few fundamental rules.

1. Be natural and pleasant. Don't over-pronounce words or sound "ready."

2. Remember that your listeners are gathered in small groups in their homes. Converse with them; don't orate.

3. Use plain, simple terms. If you're not understood, your talk is a failure.

4. In writing your talk, make the sentences short. You'll find it easier to breathe and your listeners can absorb your message better in brief, straight-forward thoughts.

5. Avoid the use of complicated figures. The listeners won't remember them. It's more effective to say "enough wheat to feed the population of Escanaba for a year" than to quote "60,000 bushels."

6. Don't be afraid of the microphone. Think of it as a friendly ear.

dicting a similar, if less pronounced trend during the next few years based on their belief that many of the stations licensed within the past five years will be unable to survive economic competition in small markets, bad management and constantly mounting costs of operation.

PRODUCTION DIRECTOR—Sam Ham is program and production director of radio station WDBC. Mr. Ham joined the staff of WDBC in January, coming to Escanaba from Dubuque, Iowa where he was music director of station WKBD. He previously served as head of the vocal department at DePauw university, Indiana and Simpson college, Iowa and also was director of music and fine arts at Wesleyan college, Iowa. Mr. Ham, a tenor who has sung with the Boston Light Opera company, the Chicago Festival quintet and the Chicago Symphony orchestra, will sing several selections over WDBC during the special dedication broadcast today from noon until one o'clock.

GLOSSARY OF RADIO UNIQUE

Industry Is Developing Its Own Colorful Language

Radio, like other arts and industries, is developing its own colorful language to meet its needs. Hence, a studio visitor hearing a frantic "Kill that mike," need not fear for the safety of that unconcerned studio announcer of obvious Irish ancestry. The fearsome expression simply is instructing a control operator to shut off the microphone. Here are other excerpts from the radio industry's glossary:

Continuity—any written script, term is holdover from days when the chief activity of a radio writer was to keep the program continuously on the air with reading material to fill in the time between musical numbers.

Show—the entire program which is to be broadcast.

Sustaining—non-commercial. Theme—music, sound or talk which opens and identifies a program from day to day or week to week.

Across the board—program scheduled five or six days a week at the same time.

Audition studio test of talent or program.

Ready-y—quality of unnatural-ness by actor or speaker, giving the listener the feel that he is reading rather than talking.

Fluff—any word or phrase accidentally mispronounced or in any way distorted, resulting in imperfect reading.

Drumming—padding a program with talk in order to fill the allotted time.

On the nose—a program which, while on the air, appears to be on time to the second.

Blasting—a distortion of sound caused by overloading the microphone, speaker or other transmitting equipment.

Log—a record required by law of every minute during which a station broadcasts.

Pancake turner—one who operates a sound effect machine or plays records on the air.

Platter—musical record. Control room—a small room usually enclosed in glass from which the engineer or announcer control the program.

Gain—the increase in volume of sound obtained in the amplifier.

Cut—may mean to stop broadcasting or to record a program on a sensitized disk.

RADIO WORKS BY VIBRATION

Waves Traverse Space At Speed Of 186,000 Miles A Second

Any exacting attempt to explain the technical aspects of radio broadcasting would necessarily involve the information seeker in a welter of electronics terms and mathematical formulas, but there are a few characteristics of radio transmission and reception which can be reduced to everyday language.

The broadcast transmitter and receiving antenna may be likened to two identical tuning forks mounted some distance apart. A tuning fork is a steel instrument consisting of two prongs and a handle, which, when struck, gives a fixed tone that serves as a standard for tuning musical instruments. When one fork is struck, it will give off a tone at a certain frequency, or certain number of vibrations per second, and the vibration of the steel prongs will cause the air surrounding it to begin vibrating at the same rate.

Such a wave thus set into motion will proceed in all directions, and a portion of the energy will reach the second tuning fork, corresponding to your serial. The pressure of the vibrating wave on this second work will set it into vibration.

Radio engineers are able to control the number of vibrations per second for any given station's broadcast signal. For the sake of convenience, the term kilocycle is used in describing the frequency, or set number of vibrations, characteristic of any particular broadcast signal. A kilocycle is one thousand cycles. Thus, WDBC has been instructed by the federal government, to do its broadcasting on a frequency of 1490 kilocycles, which may appear near "15" on your radio dial, for receiving set manufacturers have further simplified the figures.

The broadcast band between 550 and 1,700 kilocycles covers greater areas during periods of darkness. Radio signals have both a ground wave, which is more evident during the day, and a sky wave, which is reflected by the upper atmosphere after dark. The angle of reflection may be such that a great space is covered, literally in leaps and bounds.

Radio waves travel through space at the same speed as light waves. This speed, or velocity, is approximately 186,000 miles per second.

CIRCUIT JUDGE?!?

The church, the home and the school are sacred institutions to Americans. Another sacred institution is the Circuit Judgeship. The Circuit Judgeship is the most important district office affecting the rights and liberties of the citizen of the Counties of Menominee, Delta, Iron, Marquette and Dickinson. Every voter has a duty to go to the polls on April 7th to cast his ballot and to assure that the vital functions of that high office be administered by a man whose professional integrity and behavior are beyond reproach. We deem it a duty to point out to the voters a part of the record of candidate Ray Derham.

In the case of United States versus John Carollo, Jr. in the Federal court at Marquette, the judge had this to say,

"So far as Mr. Derham is concerned, I feel he has been guilty of a flagrant violation of his duty to this court and of his oath as an attorney. I think the only proper action for this court to take is to order that his name be stricken from the roll of attorneys of this court, for a period of one year from this date." The court then made the following order.

"It is further ORDERED by the Court now here that the name of Ray Derham, a witness for said defendant, and an attorney of record in this Court, be stricken from the Attorneys' Roll of this Court for a period of one year from date hereof.

(Signed) FRED M. RAYMOND,
United States District Judge.

Dated: October 9, 1936

Is this type of attorney suited for the high office of Circuit Judge?

In Glenn W. Jackson you have a candidate whose record is clean; a man of broad learning and an excellent lawyer.

Therefore, in the interest of good government, vote for Glenn W. Jackson for Circuit Judge on the Non Partisan Ballot on April 7th.

Sigler Turns Down Debate Challenge Of Senator Nowak

Lansing (AP) — Senator Stanley Nowak, Detroit Democrat, whom Governor Sigler accused of being a "Communist sympathizer," Wednesday challenged Sigler to a public debate on the matter and Sigler, indirectly, rejected the challenge.

Nowak replied then that Sigler "is dodging the issue" and "has backed down."

Nowak asked Sigler to debate with him before the Senator's constituents, promising "you will have one of the biggest audiences before whom you have ever spoken." He suggested that Lt. Gov. Eugene C. Keyes, a Republican, preside at the debate.

"You like to describe yourself as a 'red-blooded, two-fisted American,'" Nowak wrote Sigler. "Therefore, you will not hesitate, I am sure, to accept this challenge."

Sigler replied in a letter that Nowak had not specified the subject for debate.

"If the issue is whether or not you are of the Communist faith, I am perfectly content to rest upon the statement of the chairman of the committee in Congress investigating un-American activities," Sigler said. "If you propose to debate the merits of democracy versus communism, my stand upon that subject is so well known to the people of Michigan, and to the people of your district, that it seems to me unnecessary to take the time to debate the subject with you."

Sigler testified before the congressional committee that Nowak was a Communist sympathizer and worker. Nowak has denied it.

Retailers Urged To Help In Move To Reduce Prices

New York, April 4 (AP) — Jack I. Straus, president of Macy's of the world's largest department store, today voiced an appeal to the public, to manufacturers and retailers to combine their efforts to reduce prices.

At a press conference announcing the store would call for a joint effort to lower prices in an advertisement to appear in New York newspapers Saturday, Straus said:

"We don't believe that the manufacturer alone should carry the burden of passing profit margin," he added. "Retail markups as well must contribute to these special values during the transition period."

The Macy advertisement urges the consumer to shop thoroughly before buying.

Liquor Commission Hearings Scheduled

Lansing, April 4 (AP) — A junket to 19 outstate cities to conduct a total of 135 hearings, beginning Tuesday, was announced by the State Liquor Control Commission today.

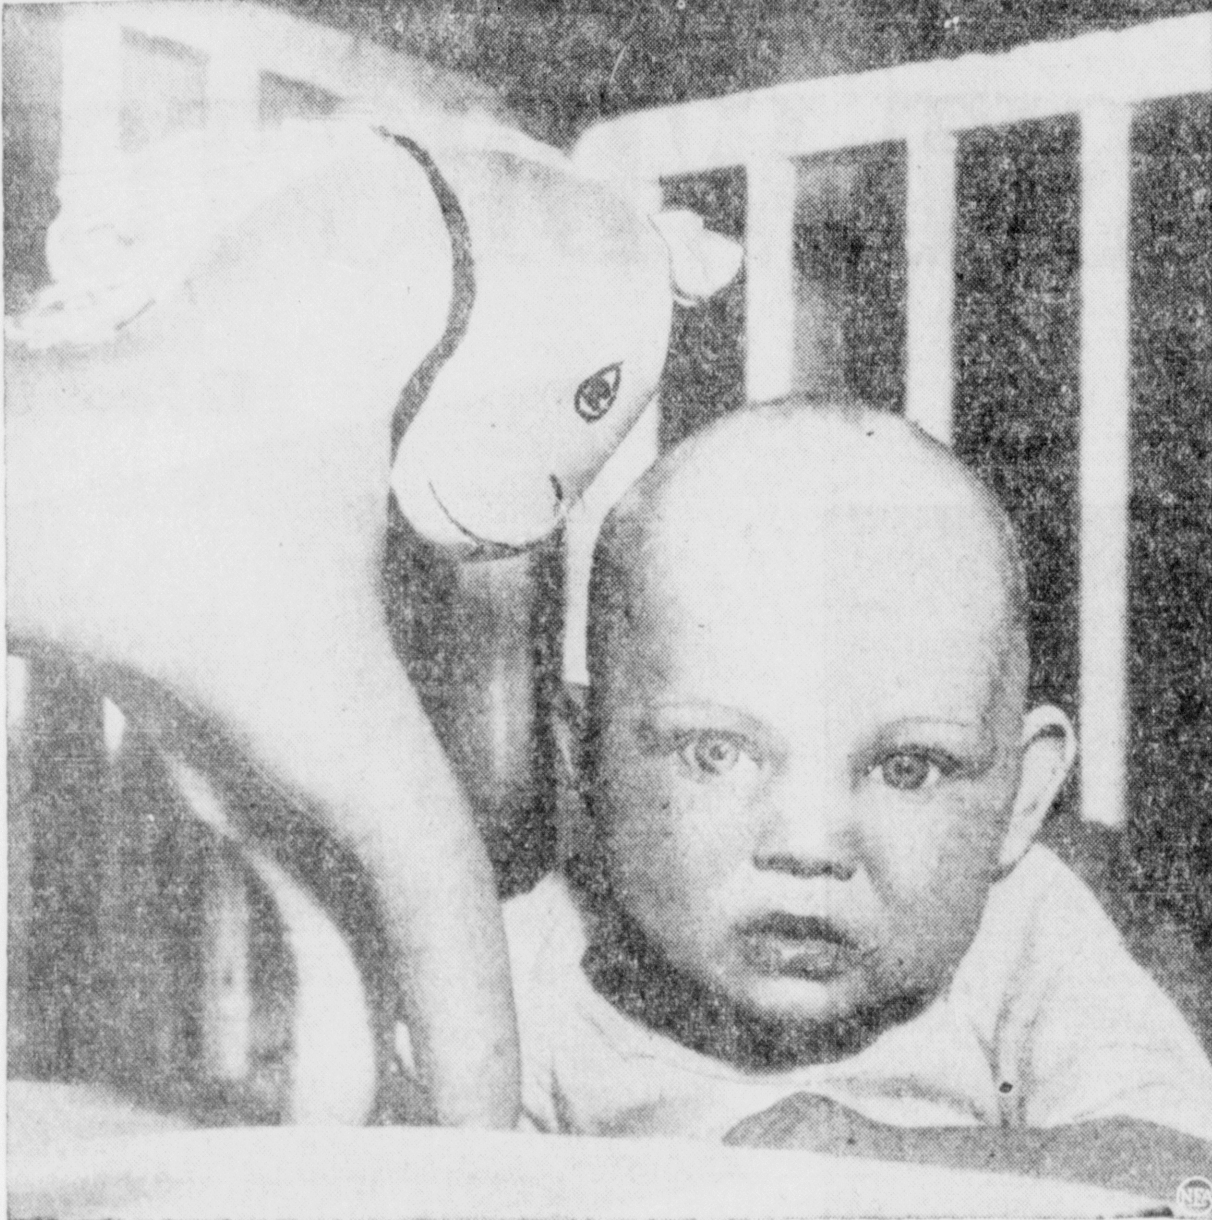

The schedule for the Upper Peninsula includes: Sault Ste. Marie, April 14; Marquette and Escanaba, April 15; Iron Mountain and Wakefield, April 16; L'Anse and Marquette, April 17, and St. Ignace, April 18.

Pere Marquette And C&O Merger Approved By ICC

Washington (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission today approved a merger of the Pere Marquette railway company into the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co., subject to approval by the affected stockholders.

The two lines are now associated through the Allegheny Corp., headed by Robert E. Young of Cleveland, and the merger is proposed "for ownership management and operation."

Under the plan approved by ICC, C. & O. will issue preferred and common stock to replace Pere Marquette stock called in from stockholders.

CLOSED SHOP BAN INCLUDED IN LABOR BILL

4. Assuring employers the right of free speech in dealing with workers and unions.

5. Freeing employers of any obligation to bargain collectively with foremen. But the bill would permit foremen to join unions.

6. Outlawing of the check-off system of collecting union dues, unless approved in writing by individual workers. Under the check-off, the employer deducts a worker's union dues from his pay and gives the money direct to the union.

7. A ban — generally effective July 1, 1948 — on health and welfare funds controlled solely by unions. The maximum penalty would be a $10,000 fine and a six-month jail sentence.

8. Making unions subject to suits in federal courts for breach of contract.

9. Requiring unions to register with the labor department and file annual financial reports. Unions failing to do so would be ineligible for bargaining certification by the National Labor Relations Board.

11. Creation of a house - senate committee to conduct "a thorough study and investigation of the entire field of labor-management relations." The committee would report by Feb. 15, 1948.

Braille Romance Ends In Marriage For Blind Couple

Cincinnati, April 4 (AP) — A romance conducted by correspondence in Braille resulted in the marriage last night of Charles Owens, 41, Cincinnati, and Florence Frutcher, 29, Columbus, O., both blind, a relative said here today.

Owens, however, would neither confirm nor deny his marriage when asked about it in Indianapolis.

"I wouldn't know about that," he said. "Maybe it's right and maybe it's wrong."

"All we want is just to disappear," Mrs. Clyde Owens, a sister-in-law, said the marriage occurred last night in Indianapolis at the home of Owens' sister, Mrs. William Lively. She said the bride and groom were expected in Cincinnati tonight.

Owens and Miss Frutcher met two years ago at an Ohio convention of the Welfare Association of the Sightless.

Improper Blasting Possible Cause Of Centralia Tragedy

BY EARL AYKROID

Centralia, Ill., April 4 (AP) — A U. S. Senate subcommittee investigating the Centralia coal mine disaster was told today the March 25 disaster in which 111 miners died was caused by possibly improper blasting that ignited a dust explosion, and that state officials, despite some safety complaints, had not considered the mine "very hazardous."

A state mine inspector who accused a resigned state mines director of soliciting Republican election campaign funds from "favored mine operators" testified coal dust improperly used in dynamiting tamping may have been "the source of the blast."

The inspector's accusation of "politics" and campaign funds "pressure" was denied by the state mines director, Robert M. Medill, who said the efforts to defeat Democrats were "voluntary."

President Hugh White of the Illinois United Mine Workers district testified that Secretary of the Interior Krug had been "guilty of criminal negligence" and "should resign his office."

White also charged Medill "was guilty in not enforcing recommendations of state mine inspectors."

All-Time Record Set By Detroit's $98,965,569 Budget

Detroit, April 4 (AP) — The city council eliminated a $637,500 item which would have given policemen a five day week today before approving an all-time record 1947 budget of $98,965,569.

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries threatened to veto the entire budget unless the council withdrew the appropriation for the reduced work week, which he contended is not authorized by city charter or state law.

He added that he would support a reduction in the work week, however, if voters authorize it by a charter amendment.

The budget includes $7,500,000 for wage increases for school teachers, who had threatened to strike if it was passed.

Approximately 1,800,000 feet of electrical cable are used in a battleship of the Iowa class.

and produce 616,000 tons a day, about 26 percent of the country's normal output.

Miners in some states will get unemployment compensation.

Already in Illinois, where Krug closed 49 pits, the State Labor department ruled that miners were entitled to a maximum of $20 weekly—in some instances less—not only for the current six-day mourning period but for subsequent days "up to a point where their mines are held safe."

West Virginia and Pennsylvania, the nation's largest soft coal producing states, have not determined whether the miners are entitled to compensation. Both states have repeatedly disallowed claims for jobless benefits whenever a labor dispute was involved.

Veterans Held Up By Notary Publics

Detroit, April 4 (AP) — The prosecutor's office today ordered an investigation of fees being charged for notarizing bonus applications after receiving numerous complaints from veterans.

First person arrested was a bar owner accused by police of charging $2 for the service compared with the legal limit of 15 cents.

Assistant Prosecutor William J. Long reported many complaints from veterans that they had been assessed from 50 cents to $150 for notary fees. He reminded that violation of the limitation carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and $100 fine.

NEW EFFORTS ARE MADE TO AVERT STRIKE

while received a strike notice filed by the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union against the Western Union Telegraph company effective at midnight May 3. A special conciliator was assigned to the case. The union says it represents 50,000 workers throughout the country outside of New York City. Gibson, personally handling negotiations here with representatives of 287,000 phone workers set to walk out at 6 a. m. (local time) Monday across the nation, reported no substantial progress toward an agreement.

A shutdown on all but the most essential phone services, like those of police and hospitals, was termed "inevitable" by union officials unless the impasse is broken before the Monday morning deadline.

Gibson talked for more than an hour with a union group headed by Joseph A. Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, whose 49 affiliates are demanding $12 weekly pay hikes and other concessions in new contracts. Labor department figures show telephone workers averaged $43.19 a week in January.

War Still On

"I told the union men they had better get busy or their Easter dinner will be doughnuts and coffee in a labor department corral," Gibson said with a grin.

Clark based his ruling on the federal communications act. It allows the government to take over communications facilities in wartime. Technically the war is still on. Seizures of mines and other strike-bound plants were based on the Smith-Connelly act but Mr. Truman surrendered that particular seizure power Dec. 31.

Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), co-author of the Smith-Connelly act, said its penalty provisions for striking against a government-owned plant still are in effect and could be invoked if the telephone lines are taken over under the communications act.

He said the Smith-Connelly act penalty provisions remain in effect until June 30. The maximum penalty is a year's imprisonment and $5,000 fine.

HUGHES TRIES AGAIN

Culver City, Calif., April 4 (AP) — Howard Hughes' FX-11, a duplicate of the plane in which the movie producer-plane builder crashed last summer, will be test flown tomorrow, a spokesman announced today.

Hughes probably will be at the controls, he said.

An animal nursery is being opened in the Melbourne Zoo to teach children to care for animals.

Radio In Review

By John Crosby

This Whistler Never Had a Mother "The Whistler," a crime program which has aroused almost hysterical enthusiasm on the West Coast, is now available (C. B. S. 10 p. m. EST Wednesdays) on both coasts and way stations in between New York and Hollywood. As crime stuff goes, this program is a little out of the ordinary, which only partially explains why it has been consistently among the fifteen most popular Pacific Coast programs for four years.

The Whistler of the title line is an eerie character who confides to the audience: "I am the Whistler and I know many things, for I walk by night. I know many strange tales hidden in the hearts of men and women who have stepped into the shadows. Yes, I know the nameless terrors of which they do not speak."

This malarkey is spoken in a voice that may be described as insinuating, ingratiating, sarcastic, slightly pompous, vaguely dissembling, altogether irritating and, though it hardly seems possible, somewhat reminiscent of that of Gabriel Heatter. The Whistler is never involved in any of these stories; he's just hanging around, whistling, when the body goes cart-um-ph to the floor.

The stories themselves are moody little jobs, quivering with psychology, which prove invariably and inevitably that crime doesn't pay. They are not whodunits in the ordinary sense; for one thing, the story is told from the point of view of the criminal rather than that of the forces of law and order. However, the criminal always gets it in the button two minutes before the final curtain, generally because he outsmarts himself. Some of these trick endings are dillies too.

In one, for instance, a beautiful young murderess and an unscrupulous young art dealer plan ingeniously to do each other in to gain sole control of a couple of Mantegna paintings which, for story purposes, are worth a cool half million bucks. Then love rears its pretty, sinister head. Somewhat frantically, they try to call the whole thing off, but their own ingenuity has already gone too far. They both wind up dead as mackerels. The Whistler, who doesn't seem to represent either society or the underworld, takes a keen relish in all this.

"Not quite what you expected, was it, John?" he murmurs when the spiderweb begins to enmesh the spider. "But you were playing with dynamite, John."

The plots are tricked up like a circus horse with baggage checks torn in half ("You take one half and I'll take the other"), cases of mistaken identity, and quite a lot of sappy love. If the actors wouldn't step so heavily on the dialogue, the Whistler would be a brilliant production job. The show is full of small, authentic details—police whistles, street noises, honking taxis, and of course foot-steps of all description. (Radio, it sometimes seems, has progressed further in the art of footsteps than in any other direction.)

Incidentally, the authors introduce dozens of small bit parts—bellboys, room clerks, taxi drivers, passersby—each with a certain amount of personality. This is the sort of thing Frank Capra does so well in the movies—the brief introduction of a character who speaks three lines and then disappears forever, leaving a sharp, pointed mark on the picture. I wish they'd do it oftener on the radio.

Takeoff Is Delayed For Globe-Girdling Flight Of Reynolds

New York, April 4 (AP)—Milton Reynolds, Chicago pen manufacturer, and a crew of two will take off from the Newark, N. J., airport at about 4 a. m. (C.S.T.) on a round-the-world flight it was announced tonight.

The departure originally had been scheduled for 12:01 a. m. tomorrow at New York's LaGuardia field, but city officials refused to permit use of any city field.

Reynolds than set 2 a. m. as the takeoff time from Newark but a spokesman later said the departure had been delayed for approximately three hours to permit installation and repair of a new gas tank which had been flown in from California.

Weary Old Lady Makes 65th Trip To Church Shrine

Cincinnati, April 4 (AP) — A weary old lady knelt today atop Cincinnati's Mount Adams before the statue of the Christ crucified in the famed Immaculate Conception church shrine.

With thousands of others she had climbed Mount Adams' 120 rainswept steps, in a Roman Catholic Good Friday Pilgrimage. Upon each step she had paused, murmuring an "Our Father" and the "Hail Mary," her fingers fondling a rosary beaded with olive pits which she had made herself.

As she had been taught by her mother decades ago, Miss Millie Knieriehm, age unknown, gave thanks that she could make the Good Friday Pilgrimage a 65th time.

COLLECTIONS HEAVY

Indianapolis, April 4 (AP) — The collection plate at the Belmont Evangelical and United Brethren church was well filled last night—but not with money.

As Jesse Gray, a trustee, was passing the plate a chunk of plaster fell from the ceiling. It fell on the plate and the trustee taken to a hospital and treated for cuts on his head.

ARE ASSISTEDMore Than Six Hundred
Helped With Bonus
Applications

Grateful acknowledgment of services performed without compensation is acknowledged by the Schoolcraft County Council of Veterans Affairs, veteran organizations and the Red Cross, in behalf of the 30 typists and 15 notaries who assisted veterans file state bonus claims this week.

Through this work more than 600 applications were made out correctly.

"With this large block of local veterans taken care of, the council deems it unnecessary to hold any more evening meetings at the high school," Leonard Mulhaupt, veterans counselor states. Application blanks may be received at the court house and local banks.

Mulhaupt suggests that veterans take blanks to his office for filling out because "there are a few technicalities involved which may cause a slight error and these will tie up the claim."

The veteran counselor and volunteer typists and notaries will be at the Germfask school next Tuesday evening to assist veterans.

The following assisted in Manistique: — Mrs. George Huber, Everett Anderson, Josephine Everett, Anderson, Josephine Busch, Ann Gorsche, Esther Soberg, Dale Ott, G. Hospital Measures
Command Spotlight In Election Here Monday

An array of ballots which may be confusing to many will be handed voters at the spring election Tuesday morning.

The issues involved, however, with the exception of the two measures affecting the voting of bonds for the hospital, have not caused much of a stir among local voters.

Chief interest outside of the hospital bonding issue is the election of a successor to the late John J. Huska, probate judge, who died late in December. Seeking to complete his unexpired term are Ralph H. Merwin, appointed several weeks ago by Governor Sigler to fill the vacancy temporarily, and Harold Labby, a resident of Manistique, for the past several years. Both were nominated in the February primary.

There will be election of candidates for township offices in most of the rural areas of the county.

The balloting as it applies to candidates and issues within Schoolcraft county follows:

County

Circuit Judge 11th Judicial Circuit—Herbert W. Runnels.

Probate Judge (to fill vacancy)—Harold Labby, Ralph H. Merwin.

School Commissioner—Ada Watson.

The two proposed amendments relate to the non-partisan primary election of judicial officers in cases of no contest, and to the length of time corporations shall be permitted to hold real estate.

The bond issue relating to the proposed new county hospital reads as follows: "Shall the County of Schoolcraft issue bonds in the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000.00) and levy a five and one-half (5½) mill tax to provide for the payment of same for the purposes of purchasing and constructing a public hospital and to provide for the maintenance of same and retire said bonds and interest hereon during a period of five (5) years."

The proposition relating to the proposed millage increase reads: "Shall the limitation of the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in the county and state of Michigan, for all purposes except taxes to be levied for the payment of interest and principal on obligations incurred prior to December 8, 1932, be increased for a period of five (5) years, from 1947 to 1951, both inclusive, to 3.05 per cent of the assessed valuation of all property in the county, as provided in Section 21, Article X, of the Constitution of Michigan?"

"It being the intention to increase the local tax rate limitation not to exceed five and one-half (5½) mills."

New York, (AP)—William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist party, has been refused permission by the War Department to enter the U. S. zone of Germany as a correspondent for the Daily Worker, officials of the Communist party newspaper reported.

In Washington, the War Department confirmed the Daily Worker announcement that Foster's application for accreditation as a correspondent had been denied.

A War Department spokesman in Washington said that under its "present policy" it could not approve the application.

The veteran Communist leader, now on a two-month tour of Europe "to study the situation," sailed from New York Feb. 5. He left Belgrade after an unpublicized visit to the Yugoslav capital March 25. His destination was not announced.

Packaging Experts Plan Wrap Appeal For Choosy Buyers

BY SAUL PETT

AP Newsfeatures Writer

New York, April 3—(AP)—Remember when the customer was never right?

You asked for a bag and the irritated grocery clerk snapped, "Donchaknowtheresawaron?" So, if you didn't have your own shopping bag, you stuffed the string beans and oranges in your pockets...

Now that the lowly consumer has been rediscovered, the revived packaging industry has big plans for pleasing him and before long, they'll be wrapping groceries as if they were diamonds and diamonds as if they were uranium.

Within five years, say industry spokesmen, all fresh produce will be lovingly packaged and, as a result, virtually all markets will be completely self-service.

As it is now, they not only give you a bag, but many vegetables, fruits and meats are trimmed, polished and individually wrapped in colorful, air-resistant packages with coy little window through which to spy on a dressed-up asparagus or carrot.

For jewelry, costly, transparent boxes with exotic tints are in the making. Cigarettes may come in non-crushable packs of laminated foil. Everywhere, jars, bottles, cans and boxes will be lighter, brighter and more functional, according to industry representatives preparing for the American Management Association's 16th Annual Packaging Exposition in Philadelphia, April 8-11.

Already on the market is one package containing a complete meal, all frozen and pre-cooked and replete with tray and paper-board dishes. You simply heat the whole business a few minutes, eat, and then throw away the dishes.

According to Alvin E. Dodd, president of the association, and Trade Publication Editors like Lloyd Stouffer of "Modern Packaging," here are some of the latest developments:

Oranges wrapped in a plastic so that the consumer can eat them in tree-ripened condition; self-sealing packages of bread; one-trip beer bottles, involving less glass, less expense and, therefore, no deposit on the bottle; resin-coated paper bags that won't rip when the sauerkraut juice leaks; fresh frozen fruit juices to be delivered every morning with your milk.

Flowers wrapped in climate-resistant plastic film which can be blown coast to coast "with the dew still on them"; re-sealable cans of soluble coffee; fresh corn on the cob in a plastic film; oleomargarine into which housewives can mix the coloring without removing it from the package; shorter, fatter marachino cherry bottles which don't tip easily; refillable perfume containers with pressurized atomizers.

A tooth powder package with a spring door—stick the brush in and get just the amount you need without spilling the rest over the bathroom; dill pickles and motor oil in plastic bags (separately); triangle-shaped nail polish containers—don't tip easily and ruin your dress and temper; coffee and sugar boxes made up of small boxes—just take out what you need, the rest stays fresh; perfume container with a ballpoint, like on the pen—just roll it on anywhere, except under water.

Packaging is directly related to the vending machine business and in this field the possibilities are even more intriguing. Manufacturers plan machines which will:

Cook a meal electronically within a few seconds after the coins are deposited; serve hot coffee—black, with sugar or cream, or with both; sell hot sandwiches, shirts or books (no-browsing); uncup a soda bottle, pour the drink and dispose of the bottle (you do the swallowing yourself); shine shoes; record voices and, finally, make change.

Farewell Party

Bark River, Mich.—Kenneth Bolm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bolm, was honored with a farewell party at his home Sunday evening on the eve of his departure for Chicago and Cleveland, Ohio, where Mr. Bolm will board the Steamer Maia for the shipping season.

Guests at the party included Wallace Bolm of Escanaba, Ronald Huthibise of Schaffer, Julian Erickson, Doreen Good, Bob Hakes of Harris, Irene and Junior Barr, Leon Pokladowski, Jim Anderson, Wayne Teal, Walton Peterson, Donald Larson, Edmund Bazzara, Edith Mae and Louis Gosman of Bark River and Bonnie Colawa of Ford River. Games were played after which lunch was served by Mrs. Carl Bolm.

Kenneth is to board the Barge Maia Monday after a week's visit with relatives in Chicago.

Leroy Clarence Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Viggo Johnson, is a surgical patient at St. Francis hospital.

Easter Seal Sales Over $300 To Date; Returns Incomplete

Munising—"Easter Sunday with its thoughts of hope and resurrection, officially marks the close of the 1947 Easter Seal Sale," Walter Corey, chairman of the Alger county drive, said yesterday.

Mr. Corey said that, thanks to many who have generously contributed to the cause of the crippled child, the sale of seals here has been most satisfactory. More than half the quota of $600 has been collected, the chairman said. This money does not include collections from schools and other organizations.

In distributing Easter seals, it is quite possible some persons have been overlooked, the chairman continued. "Our desire is to afford everyone at Easter an opportunity to contribute and if you have not been contacted, please feel free to do so. Headquarters for the drive is located in the Munising Coal company office, Elm and Superior streets.

Mattson Grocery Damaged By Fire

Munising—Fire, which broke out Friday afternoon in the furnace room adjoining the main building of the Ted Mattson Grocery store, east of Munising, spread to the main structure and caused considerable damage to the interior of the store and to an apartment located in the rear of the building occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Oas.

George MacKenzie, local fire chief, did not have an immediate cost estimate of damage, but said it would probably be very high. The grocery store was covered by insurance, he said. However, the apartment occupied by the Oas family was not insured, and smoke and water caused considerable damage there.

The fire was caused by a defective furnace and pipes, the chief said.

The store was closed for Good Friday services when fire broke out. The blaze had a good start before an alarm was turned in. Firemen had the blaze under control within a half hour after they arrived, the chief said. The alarm was received at approximately 2 p. m. Friday.

Mrs. Bob Oas was asleep in the rear apartment when the fire started, but was aroused by the smell of smoke and was able to leave the building safely.

The United States has shown a net increase of 3,250,000 new families since 1940.

Mayor Issues Proclamation

Munising—Mayor Lowell C. Gibson yesterday issued the following Army day proclamation:

"April 7 has been declared by the Congress of the United States to be Army day.

"The maintenance of an Army adequate for the defense of our nation is necessary for the perpetuation of peace.

"A volunteer Army, is the most satisfactory and is necessary for the release of those citizen soldiers who have served in our period of crisis; is necessary in the era of reconversion and reconstruction.

"The United States Army recruiting service is sponsoring programs to enlighten all citizens qualified for enlistment in the United States Army of the advantages of a career in the United States Army.

"Now, therefore, I, Lowell C. Gibson, mayor of the city of Munising, Michigan, do hereby proclaim the week of April 7 through April 12 as Army recruiting week and urge all citizens to cooperate in the recruiting program of the U. S. Army.

"Be it further resolved, that the citizens of Munising display the national colors on Army day, April 7.

1947 City Bowling Association Tournament Opens Monday Night

KEGLERS SHOOT AT $500 PRIZE

Five Teams Roll 5-Man Event; Meet To Last Until April 30

With approximately 50 teams entered, the city bowling tournament will get underway at the Arcade bowling alleys at 7 Monday evening with five teams pummeling the pins in the five-man event.

Members of the five teams which will kick the lid off of the 1947 Escanaba classic will bowl singles and doubles later on. Quintets ready to pour it on Monday are the United Commercial Travelers Seniors, the UCT Juniors, Johnston Printers, C. & N. W., "400", Maytag Sales and the City Drug team.

Entries Closed Yesterday
The tournament will be conducted on a handicap basis, as usual, with each bowler getting 75 per cent of the difference between 200 and his average in all events. The meet will continue until April 30.

Entries Closed Friday Night
April 4, Norris "Nick" Devile, secretary of the Escanaba Bowling association, said, "A complete report of the number of contestants in each event, the five-man, doubles and singles, will be made later. Fifty-two teams entered the tournament last year and at least that many will be out for prize money in this year's meet."

Bigger Prize Melon
Escanaba keglers will be happy to learn that they will slice up a prize melon valued at approximately $500, or considerably over the amount which they shot at in 1946.

The reason for the swelled melon is that a fee of one "simoleon" is being assessed this year in addition to the bowling charge. Last year, the bowling charge was taken out of the entry fee, which, by simple arithmetic, figured the 1946 prize melon to be a small one, indeed.

Ohio State Takes Early NAAU Lead

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Columbus, O., April 4 (P)—Ohio State jumped into the lead for the National A. A. U. diving and swimming championship tonight taking eight points on a first and fourth place in the opening event, the 220-yard free style.

Bill Smith, who holds the 2:07.1 national record, went the route in 2:08 to beat Alex Jany of France by about 10 feet, while Halo Hironse pulled up fourth for the Bucks as they went after their second straight grand slam over the country's top natators.

The Buck lead was short-lived, however, as Joseph Verdeur and Don DeForest finished one-two in the 220-yard breast stroke for 10 points, while Jim Counsilman's fourth place kept Ohio tied for the top.

You Have To Win In New Orleans

New Orleans, April 4 (P)—The New Orleans school board warned athletic coaches in public high schools here to produce winning teams or go back to classroom teaching.

"Unless coaches can produce satisfactory winning teams within three years, they must go back to full-time teaching," said William C. Fletcher, member of the school board. "There's no reason why we can't win more games."

In recent years the New Orleans parochial schools have won a major share of honors in both local and state competition.

Russia has become a member of soccer's international governing body, and Soviet teams may make world tours in the future.

Channing Out Of NWM Cage League For One Year For Using High School Player

Florence, Wis., April 4—Suspension from the Northern Wisconsin Michigan league for one year is the price the Channing independent basketball team must pay for using a high school basketball player during a league game with the Ishpeming Legion last season.

Action taken by league directors at the spring meeting here this week deprived the Channing entry of the right to compete in league competition during the 1947-48 season. No fine was levied but the penalty also deprives all Channing players including Bill Teszlewicz, the high school cager involved, from playing with any other NWM league teams for a period of one year.

Take Firm Stand
Directors also put teeth in the league constitution article concerning use of high school players. Hereafter any team guilty of using high school players will forfeit its franchise fee of $50 and be barred from league competition for one year. President J. R. Davidson,

Grade School Cage Play Discontinued

Escanaba grade school basketball at the junior high school gymnasium has been discontinued for the rest of the season because the gym is unavailable for further use, it was announced yesterday. Election polls will be put in place Saturday.

Wings At Toronto For 'Do-Or-Die' Puck Tilt Tonight

Detroit, April 4 (P)—All but eliminated from the National Hockey League playoffs after dropping their second straight decision to the Toronto Maple Leafs, the Detroit Red Wings showed off today for Toronto where the methodical Leafs can sew up a berth in the Stanley Cup finals Saturday by closing Detroit out in five games.

Hounded by injuries since the outset of the best-of-seven-game post-season series, the Red Wings called on Fernand Gauthier to play right wing in place of Eddie Bruneteau, who injured his leg Thursday while Toronto was winning its second straight 4 to 1 victory here to take a commanding three to one lead in games.

Bruneteau, going on the shelf, joined Gossie Harry Lumley, who has missed the entire series because of a groin injury; Captain Sid Abel, who didn't play Thursday because of an attack of pleurisy and doesn't figure in Red Wing plans Saturday; Cliff Simpson, who suffered a dislocated shoulder last night, and Jerry Couture, who came out of an earlier game at Toronto with a broken hand.

Manager Jack Adams of the Red Wings named Hugh Millar to replace Rookie Deneffsman Al Dewbury in uniform for the "do or die" Saturday scrap and said that Bill Quackenbush would be in uniform despite an ailing knee. Quackenbush was hurt Tuesday but played last night.

If Toronto can win Saturday, the Leafs will qualify to oppose Montreal, winner over Boston, in the cup finals. A Detroit victory would make necessary a sixth game, to be played here Sunday.

Interest in high school baseball is booming here, in Iron Mountain, Marquette county and elsewhere in the Upper Peninsula as schools on all fronts prepare to swing into spring athletic schedules.

Coach Jim Rouman has issued a call for diamond candidates at Escanaba high to report Tuesday afternoon. Baseball uniforms for the Eskymos already have been ordered, and the report from Iron Mountain is that Coach Omar LaJeunesse's team will be decked out in 15 new uniforms this season.

Uniforming the Iron Mountain team was made possible through the cooperation of the American Legion, which is splitting the cost with the school. The Legion junior team will use the uniforms during the summer.

Negaunee high school baseball players met this week to make plans for a team. Not only is the active Vance Hiney, former hurling ace for the Negaunee Rovers, pushing his Negaunee high school Miner nine, but he's gone all-out to bring the sport back to other teams in Marquette county, namely Graveret of Marquette, Ishpeming and Gwinn.

Hiney is going even farther. He's written to coaches in Munising, L'Anse, Newberry and Sault

Crystal Falls, and all league directors took a firm stand against any member team interfering with high school athletics in any manner.

Use of Teszlewicz, a member of the Channing high school team, by the Channing independent quintet, became known after the high school team, with Teszlewicz in the lineup, played two games in the Marquette district tournament. The case is still to be reviewed by the U. P. high school athletic committee.

Bakers Ask Franchise
No definite steps were taken for reorganization of the league at last night's meeting. The 1947-48 roster will be shaped at the first full meeting which will be held in September. Stambaugh's Big Jo Bakers, one of the strongest independent teams in the U. P., were represented at last night's session and applied for a franchise in next year's circuit. Directors recommended that the Bakers receive first consideration at the fall session.

DIMAGGIO TO MISS OPENER

Joe Still Limping, But Hopes To Play Before June 1

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 4 (P)—Joe Di Maggio, still limping from his Jan. 7 heel operation, definitely will miss opening day but he may surprise skeptics who think he won't play for the New York Yankees before June 1.

Left behind with Dr. Mal Stevens, Coach Frank Crosetti and a skeleton squad of pitchers and catchers when the main unit left tonight for Atlanta enroute north, Di Maggio never was more eager to play baseball.

"I'm anxious to get in there as soon as I can," he said. "I want to make the real test and find out just how much I have left. Honestly, I think at 32 I have plenty left."

Hits Screaming Drive
Yesterday he worked out with the Yankees for the first time, wearing a moccasin-type slipper on his left foot. First time up he smashed a screaming drive over the fence, foul by inches.

"I didn't expect to hit," he commented. "But once you get out there with the other fellows, it's in your blood. You have to hit. It felt good up there at the plate. I kept at it too long, I guess that's why I have these blisters."

He pointed to a series of blisters on his left hand, one painful enough to prevent him from gripping the bat properly. Sitting on a club house bench, carefully pulling on a white sock over his tender heel, he made a wry face and said, "Just look at a bat makes me sick today."

Pinch-Hit Duty
Manager Bucky Harris was out to watch "the big fellow" hit before heading north and was pleasantly surprised at his easy actions. If Joe did not have to play the outfield, he probably could be in shape for the opener. He swings a bat with the same authority, sore heel or no, but there is no question about the fact that he can not run. It is likely that he will see pinch-hitting duty before he plays regularly.

BACK INJURED BY NEWHOUSER

New Orleans, April 4 (P)—Hal Newhouse, Detroit Tiger ace southpaw, injured his back as the Tigers tonight defeated the New Orleans Pels, 4-1.

The big southpaw gave up but one clean hit prior to the time he caught a cleat on the mound as he was making a heave and had to be removed from the game. Detroit . . . 400 000 000—4 4 0 New Orleans . . . 000 000 001—1 6 2 Newhouse, Gorsica and Tebbets, Swift, Modica, Hecker and Pruett.

Pension Plan For Major League Ball Players In Effect

Cincinnati, April 4 (P)—Adoption of the major league baseball players' pension plan, effective as of April 1, was announced today by Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

The plan includes both annuity and life insurance benefits under group contracts with the Equitable Life Insurance Society of the United States, the commissioner's office said.

With but one exception, the program sets the retirement age of a player, coach or trainer at 50 years and provides annuities from $50 up to $100 per month for life. It also stipulates that these personnel be insured by the clubs for from approximately $5,300 to $10,600 of group life insurance as long as they are on a major league club roster.

cepted without endangering his high school eligibility.

THIS and THAT: An Upper Peninsula coaches' clinic designed to better the class of basketball and football in the U. P. has been proposed, a five-day session at Northern Michigan college in Marquette with the University of Michigan, Northern and U. P. coaches cooperating. . . This may be ironed out at the coaches' meeting in Escanaba May 30. . . Offensive and defensive styles of play in football and basketball would be discussed to permit coaches to perfect their own styles and perfect defenses against others.

Escanaba Five Spots and Peddlers are second and third, respectively, in the five-man, and Johnny Boyle, Escanaba, is third in the singles.

Two Escanaba teams, the Liberty Loans and L. & L., will roll in the U. P. championship tournament in Wakefield next weekend. . . As far as is known, no Escanaba quintets will bowl there this weekend.

WORLD CAGE MEET OPENS

Fast 14-Team Field In 9th Annual Tournament

Chicago, April 4 (P)—Professional basketball's biggest season will be climaxed by the ninth annual world tournament which opens with a three-game program at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

Although neither the National Basketball league nor Basketball Association of America champions, currently being determined in intra-league playoffs, will be represented, the 14-team field is one of the strongest in tournament history.

Fort Wayne Defends
Pairings for the opening session of the five-day meet include Oshkosh, (Wis.) All Stars vs. Herkimer, (N. Y.) Mohawks; Pittsburgh Pirates vs. Anderson, (Ind.) Packers; and Midland (Mich.) Dow Chemicals vs. Syracuse (N. Y.) Nationals.

The defending champion Ft. Wayne (Ind.) Zollners and the Indianapolis Kautskys, both of the National Basketball league, drew first round byes.

The three remaining first round clashes are scheduled Sunday as the Sheboygan (Wis.) Redskins meet the Portland (Ore.) Indians; the New York Rens encounters the Toledo (Ohio) Jeeps; and the Baltimore Bullets engage the Moline (Ill.) Tri-City Blackhawks.

Championship Thursday

A four-game quarterfinal round is carded Monday night, with the semifinals next Wednesday night and the championship and third place playoff on Thursday night. Many of the entries girded for the tournament, sponsored by the Herald-American, with recent player trades and purchases, Fort Wayne armed for its title defense by signing two of the University of Illinois' original "Whiz Kids," Jack Smiley and Ken Menke.

GREECE NOW IN SPOTLIGHT

Hungry Country Unable To Feed Her People

Washington, (SS.)—Once the most powerful nation in the world, Greece today occupies the world's spotlight as a hungry country with little hope of ever feeding her people.

Main occupation of the 7,000,000 inhabitants of modern Greece is agriculture and the main product is wheat. Yet, even before the country was battered in World War II, the chief products which Greece bought from other countries were cereals and other foods.

About the size of Alabama or North Carolina and shaped a little like Florida with the northern arm reaching east instead of west, Greece is a mountainous country with many lakes and rivers. Only one-fifth of the land can be farmed, but three-fourths of the people are employed in agricultural pursuits.

Greece will always depend on other countries for her food. Before the war Greece paid for food with exports of horticultural products such as tobacco and currants. Perhaps her most famous product is olives, which compete with those of other Mediterranean countries in the world markets.

Battered in the rough terrain of Greece is a variety of important minerals. But Greece must depend on other countries for coal, and the minerals have not been extensively mined.

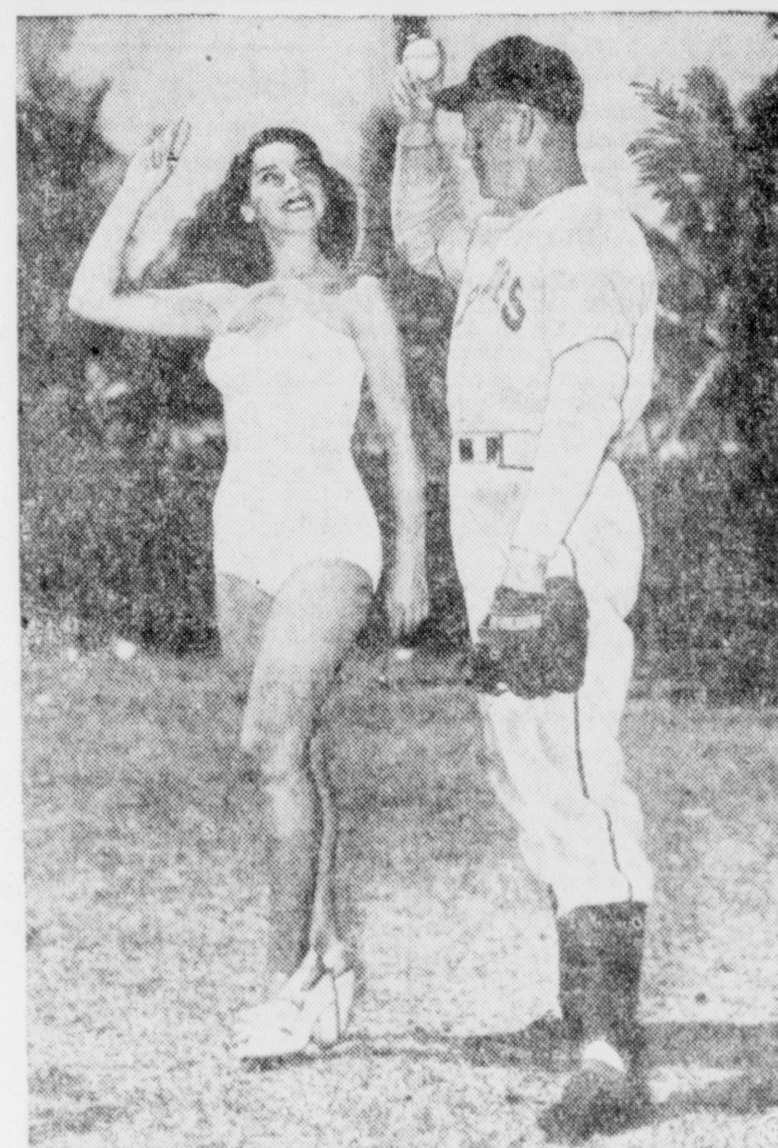

The Greek peninsula is one of the leading sources of chrome from which comes the chromium of many types of high grade steel. Other minerals are lignite, iron ore, iron pyrites, magnesite, lead, emery, marine salt and the famous Greek marble.

The invasions and occupation of World War II, while part of the cause for Greece's plight today, are an old story in the history of the country. Since the days of the "Glory that was Greece" 2,500 years ago, probably no area in the world has seen as many years. Battered and helpless, modern Greece is built on the ruins of one of the greatest civilizations in history. On these ruins today is one of the toughest problems President Truman and other world leaders must face.

Middlecoff Moves Into First Place Tie At 140 In Masters' Golf Meet

BY CHICK HOSCH

Augusta, Ga., April 4 (P)—Cary Middlecoff, the youngest pro entered, and veteran Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., continued their subpar shooting today to share the lead in the 11th annual Masters' Golf tournament with a half-way total of 140.

Middlecoff, a 26-year-old dentist from Memphis, who turned pro less than a month ago, shot a three under par 69. Demaret, the winter here in 1940 and now the year's leading money winner, had a 71 over the 6,800-yard national layout.

However, the day's best round and lowest in this playing of the $10,000 event went to belting Ben Hogan. The little Hershey, Pa., pro had nines of 34-34, two under on each side of the rugged layout for a 143, to reestablish himself as a favorite.

Nelson Has 141
One stroke behind Middlecoff campaigners, including Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Texas, now retired, who won here in 1937 and 1942. Nelson had 72 today to go with his 69 which shared the opening day lead with Demaret.

Deadlocked with Nelson were Tony Penna of Cincinnati, who shot a 70 today, and Jim Fievrier of Chicago who had 71.

Tied next at 142 were Horton Smith of Detroit, the 1934 and 1936 champion; Ed Oliver of Willington, Del.; Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Lawson Little of Cleveland, O.; and Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y. Harmon had a 69 today. Smith carded 70. Little and Barron each 71, and Oliver a 72.

Middlecoff Has Troubles
Middlecoff, the vision of his right eye impaired 50 percent as the result of a dental laboratory accident while serving in the Army, played boldly. He went for the pin with every shot, but after his fine opening nine of three birdies and six pars he nearly blew up on the back nine.

He got into trouble on the 10th when he pulled his second shot under the green and then missed a four-foot putt after a fine recovery. He also went one over on the 11th when he three-putted from 10 feet. He parred the 12th but got into a mess of trouble on the unlucky, dogleg 13th, a 480-yard par 5 affair.

SIX STRAIGHT FOR NEW YORK

Giants Come From Behind To Beat Indians, 10-6

Phoenix, Ariz., April 4 (P)—The New York Giants today registered their sixth consecutive victory of the current spring baseball training season when they came from behind to defeat the Cleveland Indians 10 to 6 in the first of a 10-game cross country series.

The Giants twice drew level with the Tribe on home runs by Willard Marshall, one with two men on base. The homers, in the fifth and seventh innings, brought Marshall's total for the season to eight.

The New Yorkers went ahead to stay in the eighth when Johnny Mize walloped a circuit drive with three men on base. Pat Seerey of the Indians put the Tribe ahead with a two-run, second inning homer and the Tribe added two more in the third on three singles and a Giant error. Cleveland . . . 022 011 000—6 10 6 New York . . . 011 030 14x—10 14 1 Gettel, Groth (6), Beardon (8) and Hegan; Kennedy, Andrews (7) and Lombardi.

A'S BEAT BROWNS, 1-0
The Philadelphia Athletics were held to three hits today but pushed over a run in the seventh inning to take a 1 to 0 victory over the St. Louis Browns in West Palm Beach.

Nelson Potter walked Elmer Valo to open the A's half of the seventh and, with two out, George Blinks doubled to left, sending Valo home with the winning run.

MEMPHIS STOPS RED SOX
The Southern Association Memphis Chicks landed on the Boston Red Sox' star righthander, David (Boo) Ferriss, for seven bunched hits in Memphis today to turn back the American League champions, 5 to 4.

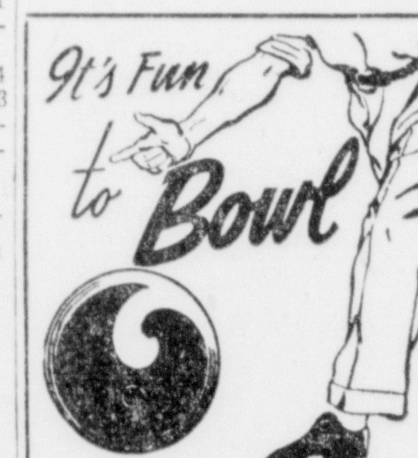

The Chicks scored four runs on four hits in the fourth and after Boston had knotted the count in the fifth, pushed across the clinches in the eighth. The winning run came on Third Baseman Burt Hodge's third hit of the afternoon—a single—a sacrifice and a second error by Boston's Shortstop Johnny Pesky. Ted Williams didn't get a hit in two official appearances.

SENATORS WIN NO. 11
The Washington Senators ran their string of exhibition victories to 11 today with a 6 to 2 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates at Orlando.

SCHOOL MEN HEAR SENATOR

Money Distribution Plan Discussed At Meeting Yesterday

Some 60 members of the Upper Peninsula Association of School Superintendents met yesterday in the Escanaba junior high building, E. J. Oas of Bessemer presiding, to hear State Senator Edgar Down, chairman of the education committee of the state senate, discuss his proposed Senate Bill No. 223, a compromise plan for the distribution of the money allotted Michigan's schools by the sales tax diversion amendment voted into effect at the general election last November.

At the conclusion of the meeting, at which nearly every county in the U. P. was represented, the school heads passed a resolution of high appreciation for Senator Down and in addition for Senator Joseph P. Cloon of Wakefield, a member of the education committee of the State Senate, and Rep. Roy Jensen of Escanaba, a member of the education committee of the House, both of whom were in attendance.

They further made four recommendations which will be sent to Senator Down who had left before the vote was taken.

Grew Out of March Meeting
Yesterday's meeting and Senator Down's presence thereat grew out of a number of resolutions passed by the Association's legislative committee meeting in Crystal Falls last March and forwarded to Senator Down.

The senator, formerly a superintendent of schools at Ferndale, now retired, and for 15 years a member of the legislative committee of the Michigan Education Association, is seeking to embody in a senate bill a compromise plan of distribution acceptable to all the state's school districts, each of which has its own demands and local problems.

Resolutions Passed
The resolutions passed yesterday by the school heads: Disapproved the 3½ million dollars allocated to Wayne University, and recommended instead that the Detroit school be placed upon the $40 per student formula of the Junior Colleges.

Approved of the 5 million dollar revolving fund to aid school building rather than the 10 million originally proposed. From this fund, schools may make loans without interest, to be repaid at the rate of 1-20th part each year. Recommended, in the matter of high school tuition, that the school which receives students from outside its district collect from the sending school district on a per student capita cost, plus 25 per cent, which will take care of the cost difference found between the cost based on high school students (who make up the bulk of the transfer students) and the per capita cost, which is based upon the entire system, from kindergarten through the 12th grade.

Further recommended that the sending school districts count these tuition students in their membership, since the schools collect state aid on a membership basis.

Morning Meeting
Prior to the afternoon meeting, the superintendents of the smaller school systems met to discuss the problems peculiar to such systems. R. P. Bowers of Rapid River presided.

In addition to Senator Down, Senator Joseph P. Cloon of Wakefield, a member of the Senate education committee, and Rep. Roy Jensen of Escanaba, a member of the education committee of the House, attended the meeting. Miss Ellen Solomonson, Sault Ste. Marie, also attended.

Quartermaster Corp's studies debunk the popular notion that pill-sized chemical meals might someday replace steak and potatoes, inasmuch as the body needs at least 1800 calories a day from fats and starchy sweet foods.

Briefs
Mrs. William Winter, Mrs. Herbert Sill, Mrs. Fred Olmsted and daughter Nancy spent Monday of last week in Escanaba. Mrs. Alex McLeod accompanied them as far as Gladstone to visit her daughter, Mrs. William Beveridge.

Mrs. Bernard Bodette, son Billy and nephew Sparky Lauzon of Detroit are spending two weeks at the Leo Lester home.

Mrs. Fred Olmsted and Mrs. Alex McLeod visited relatives in Manistique Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sill and Mrs. William Winter attended funeral services for Miss Leona Eggert of Milwaukee at Escanaba Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Winter of Manistique were guests at the William Winter home Sunday.

$100 Lunch Was Taken For Ride

Oklahoma City (AP)—Harry Woodrow didn't mind missing a meal, but he was glad to get back his lunchbox which contained $100—after it rode on the bumper of an automobile for a whole day.

Loaded with bundles, Woodrow set the lunchbox on the bumper as he waited for a streetcar. When it came along, he hopped aboard but forgot his box. A few minutes later, he remembered and got off the streetcar only to find that the automobile had been driven off.

The owner of the auto, Jack Morgan, drove around all day on business, and that night found the lunchbox on his bumper.
